Auto and Plane Accidents Kill 32 on Sabbath

GEORGIA SWELLS
REAPER'S HARVEST WITH FIVE DEATHS

Crash Near Calhoun Kills Three, Injures Eight.
Plane Collision on Coast Takes Six Lives.

SCORES INJURED,
MANY SERIOUSLY

Ship Drops in Center of Montana Town; Crossing Crash Takes Toll of Five.

Death rode the highways and the airways, flashed from the skies and rumbled along steel rails Sunday as a veritable storm of accidents swept the country, leaving 32 persons dead, a dozen more near death and scores injured.

Georgia added five to the total of dead as a head-on collision between two cars near Calhoun brought fatal injuries to three and injured eight. A similar accident near Powder Springs snuffed out another life, and a fifth was killed as an automobile careened through a group of pedestrians on the highway just outside Tucker.

Six persons plunged from the skies to their deaths at San Diego, Cal., when a stunt airplane tore a wing from a big commercial plane and sent it to the ground. Five lives were cut short when the speeding Crescent Limited train struck an automobile at a grade crossing in East Gastonia, N. C. At Greensboro, N. C., four more were killed in an auto crash. Two were killed near Norfolk, Va., as a heavy sedan, for some unknown reason, drove headlong into a concrete bridge support. Lightning flashed from the sky to take two lives at a baseball park near Cincinnati, Ohio, Tampa, Fla., reported two dead, one as the result of a skidding automobile's overturning, another, a small boy, as the result of having pulled a flower box from a railing onto his head. Four members of a Steubenville, Ohio, family met death together when their car plunged over a 100-foot embankment and struck a speeding Pennsylvania railroad train. At Martin, Mont., an airplane carried two to death as it dropped in the center of the town.

-:- These Songbirds Fly South in Spring -:-

Hoover Denounces Farm Aid
Debtore Plan as Subsidy
And Disaster to Agriculture

In Strong Letter to Mc-Nary, President Says
Export Surplus Scheme Will Wreck Planters.

Washington, April 21.—(P)—President Hoover, in a letter sent today to Chairman McNary, of the senate agriculture committee, said he was convinced that the export debtore plan of farm relief under consideration by that committee would constitute a direct subsidy from the United States treasury, and bring disaster to the American farmer.

S. L. RHORER DIES; NOTED SCIENTIST

One of the South's Most Famous Astronomers Passes at Home Following Extended Illness.

S. L. Rhorer, internationally-known astronomer and the founder of the Georgia Paint & Glass Company, died Sunday morning at his home, 50
South Prado, after an extended illness. Mr. Rhorer was in his 59th year and had lived in Atlanta since his early youth.

Funeral services will be conducted at 4 o'clock today at the Spring Hill chapel. Dr. Richard Orme Flinn will be in charge and burial will be in Hillcrest cemetery. F. J. Coudler, Sr., G. W. West, A. P. Tripodi, Dr.
P. J. Messick, Judge John D. Humphries and Thurston Hatcher will serve as pallbearers.

A native of Columbia, Ky., Mr.
Rhorer came to Atlanta in 1895, and at that time founded the paint company with which he was connected until the time of his death. He was an outstanding figure in this industry and in addition to managing his firm was founder and president for many years of the Atlanta Paint Club.

He early began his study of astronomy as a hobby and during the later years of his life became widely known for his discoveries. Perhaps his most outstanding contribution to the science was the founding, in 1921, of the Southern Cross observatory, at

STORMS KILL 20;
HAIL WRECKS CARS

Tornadoes Strike in Five Southwestern States.
Kentucky Pelted by 7-Inch Hailstones.

Kansas City, April 21.—(P)—The death toll from tornadoes and floods in the southwest mounted from the six that had been recorded over the week-end to upward of a score when a storm cut a 100-yard path through farm property near Tiller, Ark., late today, killing at least 13 persons, 11 of them negroes. Tiller is situated about 90 miles southwest of Little Rock.

Another tornado was reported to have struck near Wham, La., raz-ing a number of houses without injury to anyone.

The death toll in floods that have inundated the lowlands and considerable railroad trackage and highway stretches over the week-end in southeastern Kansas, northern Oklahoma and Missouri, was increased with the drowning of a laborer in the Des Peres river at St. Louis.

Today's tornadoes followed those in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri at the week's close. The town of Reese, Kansas, was almost wiped out Saturday by a storm that took one life.

A survey of the section of Bolivar, Mo., that was swept by a tornado last night, showed that 11 persons were injured and nearly 50 homes razed or badly damaged. The property loss of Reese, Kansas, was estimated at $100,000. None was seriously injured and the homeless were being cared for by neighbors. The storm struck the southwest portion of the town, leveling everything in a path 200 yards wide.

PHARMACY CLERK BATTLES BANDITS

Answers With Pistol as Thieves Twice Fire Shotgun; Pair Rob Another Store.

Detectives Ellis and Cody, Sunday were seeking two young white bandits who, armed with a shotgun, late Saturday held-up one West Peachtree street pharmacy and were repulsed at a second after a gun battle in which one of the marauders was believed to have been wounded.

The pair entered the McFarland Drug company, 533 West Peachtree street, at about 11:30 o'clock, as Henry McFarland, night manager was talking with two customers. The robbers gave curt commands to the three to face the wall and stand with their hands in the air.

As one of the customers started to resist the unarmed bandit the other threw the heavy shotgun to the floor and brandished a pistol. McFarland, standing at the end of a counter, as he fired McFarland jumped to one side and the charge tore through a showcase. The thing then fired again, the charge this time knocking an exhibit from the top of the showcase as McFarland ducked.

The manager then secured his gun and stepping from behind the counter fired at the bandits as they were leaving the door. The pistol, an automatic jammed, preventing a second shot.

W. N. Scarborough, manager of St.
Andrew's Pharmacy, at 1041 West Peachtree street, reported that two men, answering the same general description as the pair described by Mc-Farland, entered his store shortly after 11 o'clock and obtained about $50 after forcing him, another clerk and several customers to stand with their hands in the air.

The detectives expressed the belief that McFarland's single shot took effect as the ball was not found lodged anywhere in the store.

Mann Demands Recognition
Of Patronage Committees
On Pain of Quitting CouncilsWIDOW OF HAYES
CLOSE TO DEATH

Police Still Seek Motive for Duel Fatal to Leslie Lohden and "Speedy" Hayes.

While the police late Sunday were seeking vainly to establish a motive in the slaying of S. E. "Speedy" Hayes, alleged dope trafficker, and Leslie Lohden, a fugitive from Kilby prison, Alabama, who "shot it out" in a dimly-lighted corridor at 31 East
Harris street shortly before 9 o'clock Saturday night, Mrs. Edith Hayes, wife of "Speedy" and also a victim of the wanted man's gun was "barely alive" at Grady hospital with a bullet wound in the abdomen, according to attaches.

The theory of a narcotic feud first advanced by officers was abandoned several hours after the shooting, when Lohden's identity became known, and robbery was given by officers as "the probable motive" when it was found that Hayes had a large amount of money in his room. Other leads also were being followed Sunday by detectives on the basis of a "tip" given Emergency Patrolmen L. P. Higgins and M. D. Carrington shortly before midnight by mysterious informants.

Several witnesses, according to the patrolmen, are said to have seen a "big green sedan" take Lohden and a companion to the Harris street address just prior to the shooting. "The other man" jumped in the machine and sped from the scene when the firing began, they were told. The "witnesses" claimed not have seen the duel, but merely heard the shots.

Colonel Says Hoover Must Choose Between Him and Lily Whites and Brown and Negroes.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
Washington, April 21.—President Hoover today found himself the center of another merry row over the southern patronage question, which, for the moment, gives prospects of leading to a break with either Postmaster General Walter H. Brown or Colonel Horace A. Mann, manager of the southern campaign.

In the face of an announcement by Postmaster General Brown that the special committees recently set up in Georgia and South Carolina for dismissing federal patronage would not be recognized in filling appointments coming under his department, Colonel Mann, who directs the Florida committee of the committees, was declared to be ready to sever all connection with the administration unless the committees are upheld.

The colonel let it be known here today in no uncertain language that he will not stand for any interference in the patronage committee structure at ready announced. Either the committees will function in recommending all federal appointments, or he will wash his hands finally of the whole southern reorganization program.

Brown is Unyielding.
On the other hand, the postmaster general was equally emphatic that a new setup would be necessary to gain recognition from his department in making postmaster appointments.

He declared that he had not been consulted and no administration authority had been given in the appointment of the committees for Georgia or South Carolina, both of which were released in Washington by Colonel Mann. As for the Florida committee, announced by republican national committeeman Glenn B. Skipper, of Miami, he was less specific, but indicated that this, too, might be disregarded so far as he was concerned.

Proceeding on the idea that the patronage bodies are officially non-existent, Mr. Brown told the correspond-

SINGERS ARE HAPPY AT REUNION WITH ATLANTA FRIENDS

Train Bringing Artists Shatters All Traditions and Arrives More Than Hour Ahead of Time.

"RONDINE" TO OPEN
ATLANTA SEASON

Hearty Welcome Given Singers by Crowd at Peachtree Station; Ziegler Predicts Big Week.

BY ELMO HAMBY.

Homing south like swallows in a wing-dipped sunshine that duplicated the drawing laziness of an Italian summer's day, a score of Metropolitan opera songbirds arrived at Peachtree station at 3:40 o'clock Sunday afternoon and following the arrival this morning of a supplementary train, Atlanta's annual season of grand opera will begin at 8 o'clock tonight with Puccini's "La Rondine."

Shattering all tradition and convention for that sort of thing, the opera train came in more than an hour ahead of time, and disgorged its precious load of songsters into as brilliant a Sunday afternoon as Atlanta ever has mustered.

Save for a very few, including Lawrence Tibbett, Julia Clausen, Vin-cenzo Reschiglian and Ina Bourskaya, they all were there Sunday afternoon.

Excited little cries of greeting and hearty welcomes in Italian by G. A.
Baldini, director of Atlanta's opera season, as well as greetings from H.
M. Atkinson, president of the Atlanta Music Festival Association, and Charles Howard Candler, vice president and treasurer, consumed the best part of ten minutes.

Happy To Be Here.

"Ah! to be back again and on such a day," was the breathless greeting of glorious Rosa Ponselle who again will transport Atlantans into the realm of ecstasy with her rendition of "Aida" on Tuesday night.

"We are looking forward to the most brilliant Atlanta season of opera," Edward Ziegler, assistant general manager of the Metropolitan, said.
"For many weeks the artists have been living in anticipation of the great week of opera in Atlanta, and I believe that Atlanta will find them more admirable; more talented than ever."

There was Armand Tokatyian and Mrs. Tokatyian, too.

"Such a beautiful day and such a beautiful welcome," Tokatyian commented.

And in the milling crowd, greeting and renewing friendships, several of many years standing, the photographers worked feverishly assembling groups and attempting to prevent Ponselle's "placard."

"CLOUDY" IS BEST PROPHET CAN SAY
FOR OPENING DAY.

The gentlemen up at the Washington weather office searched around in the old book Sunday but the best they could bring out for Atlanta's big first day of opera was a rather foreboding cloudy with possible showers' placard.

They extend some hopes that the showers will come this morning and that mildness's expensive and none too rugged evening things will be safe tonight. They refused to retract and promise sunshine, however, insisting that the clouds will be with us today and probably tomorrow.

The Weather
MOSTLY CLOUDY.

Washington, April 21.—(P)—Forecast:

Georgia—Mostly cloudy Monday and Tuesday, with showers Monday and possibly on the coast Tuesday; cooler in the north and central portions Monday.

North Carolina—Mostly cloudy
Monday and Tuesday, with showers
Monday and in extreme west portion Tuesday; cooler in the interior Monday.

Florida—Partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday; possibly occasional scattered showers.

Kentucky and Ohio—Partly cloudy and continued cool Monday; Tuesday, fair and somewhat warmer.

Tennessee—Partly cloudy and cooler possibly in extreme east portion Monday; Tuesday, fair and somewhat warmer.

West Virginia—Mostly cloudy Monday, preceded by showers in morning; Tuesday, fair and somewhat warmer.

All-Night Man-Hunt Eluded By Negro Slayer of Deputy

Savannah, Ga., April 21.—(AP)—An all-night man-hunt last night through the swamps and forest near Riceboro, Ga., with bloodhounds from the Chatham county "Brown" farm aid, failed to locate their quarry, a young negro, Sam Spencer, who shot and fatally wounded Deputy Sheriff H. L. Johnson, of Liberty county, last night.

The bloodhounds, secured by Sheriff M. F. Clark, of Liberty county, late Saturday night, were returned to Savannah this morning. A tired posse of half an hundred returned to their homes after hours spent in seeking the negro, who is about 18 years of age, and whose automatic pistol inflicted three wounds in Mr. Johnson, causing his death early Sunday morning. Two bullets entered Johnson's breast, both near the heart, and after a transfusion of blood furnished by his son, W. C. Johnson, the wounded man died in a local hospital. One bullet entered the left arm. He lost much blood after the shooting. Although critically wounded the deputy sheriff, with blood gushing from his wounds, called for someone to catch the fleeing negro.

Late Saturday night there was some doubt expressed by those who brought the wounded man to Savannah of the exact name of the negro who fired the fatal shot. Sheriff Clark, of Liberty county, today said Sam Spencer was the negro youth who fired the fatal shot. He is 18 years of age, was clad in overall jumps and pants, wore a black hat and brown shoes, and could not have reached his home in time to change his clothes so close were his pursuers, said Sheriff Clark. He weighs about 125 pounds and is 5 feet 5 inches tall.

Armed with rifle and shotguns and led by Sheriff Clark, the posse, with Chatham county Policemen Lee Ingram and Talmadge Zipperer also in the group, scoured the swamps and forest for the negro. House after house was searched and the dim

TROOPS ARE REMOVED FROM CAROLINA MILLS

Settlement of Strikes Yet Far Off But Peace Is Restored.

Gastonia, N. C., April 21.—(AP)—All state troops on guard at the Lora cotton mills here where a strike has been in progress for the last three weeks were withdrawn today. 40 deputy sheriffs took their place.

The troops had been on duty at the Lora mill owned by the Manville, McKee & Company, of Pawtucket, R. I., since April 3. They were called out after demonstrations of violence of the mill property got out of control of civil authorities. Although authorities asserted this afternoon that they did not expect any further trouble in the mill village or at the mill, Sheriff Eli Linberger swore in five additional deputies this afternoon, making a force of 40 on duty. He also announced that he had summoned 20 additional deputies from other parts of the county to Gastonia to start duty at the mill tomorrow.

The day passed quietly in all sections of the county. In Bessemer City, where a strike conducted by the National Textile Workers' union, Sunday appeared much like any other day and civil authorities said there had been no trouble and they expected none.

TENNESSEE RAYON STRIKERS ARE QUIET.
Elizabethton, Tenn., April 21.—(AP) Quiet prevailed in this little Tennessee industrial city today, as the strike of more than 5,000 workers at the American Gleaners and American Bemberg textile mills reached the end of its first week, with indications that settlement still was far away.

All agencies involved agreed today that settlement was a question as complex as it was last Monday when a walkout forced the two big plants to close, with officials of the mills and labor heads still adamant.

Charles G. Work, department of labor mediator, said today his services could avail nothing for the present and announced he would leave tomorrow unless an unforeseen development brightened prospects for a settlement.

No statement was forthcoming from Dr. Arthur Mowbray, president of the two idle plants, either on the strike or notification that Major George L. Berry, president of the International Pressmen's union, had been appointed by Governor Henry Horton as a state representative to aid in terminating the strike.

Labor leaders, Thomas F. McMahon, president, and William F. Kelly, vice president, of the United Textile Workers, and Arthur C. Ayman, president of the Tennessee Federation of Labor, conferred today and agreed that they agreed with Wood that chances of the workers returning to the mill at an early date were slight.

HOOVER DENOUNCES FARM AID DEBENTURE

upon which he predicated an expressed belief that the theoretical benefits would not be reflected to the farmers; that the debenture plan would lead to profiteering by speculators and others as well as over-production of the affected commodities, thus adding to the difficulties from which the farmer now suffers from that cause, and cost the United States two hundred millions yearly.

Finally, he said that the introduction of such a plan would "inevitably confuse and minimize the much more far-reaching plan of farm relief, upon the fundamental principles of which there has been general agreement."

Democrats Hold Power.
Attached to the president's letter were communications from Secretaries Mellon and Hyde and the commerce department which condemned the plan in almost as vigorous language as that employed by the chief executive and upon which Mr. Hoover based most of his own conclusions that the plan put forward by the National Grange is dangerous as well as uneconomical.

Senator McNary has called his committee to meet in special session at 10 a. m. tomorrow to consider the communications and there is conjecture as to what action the committee will take since it decided last week to report the debenture plan irretrievably shelved.

An unofficial poll of the committee tonight disclosed six for the plan and against, with the deciding votes in the hands of two democrats, Smith, of South Carolina, and Thomas, of Oklahoma, and the one farmer-labor member of the senate, Shipstead, of Minnesota.

Even should the committee decide to report the measure back with the provision authorizing the federal farm board to put the debenture plan into operation upon application of one or more farmers' co-operatives, administration leaders believe the senate will reject it in view of the strong opposition of President Hoover.

Grange Dissatisfied.
The house will resume consideration of its own measure, which does not include a debenture plan, tomorrow under the five-minute rule for amendments and under a program calling for its passage on Wednesday. Debate also begins tomorrow in the senate, but with a vote apparently several weeks away.

Whether the National Grange will insist upon pressing its proposal before the senate appeared tonight to be somewhat problematical, although its statement was forthcoming from Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, who had a long conference on the subject yesterday with President Hoover.

There were unconfirmed reports that some of the grange leaders were not wholly satisfied with the form in which the senate committee had written the debenture plan into the McNary measure and that there might be a move for changes in the senate.

Text of Letter.
The president's letter to Senator McNary disapproving the export debenture plan as a measure of farm relief is as follows:

The White House
Washington, April 22, 1929.
"The Honorable Charles L. McNary
"United States Senate.
"My Dear Mr. Senator:
"On April 12 I received a call from yourself and Senators Capper, Heflin, Norbeck and Ransdell, acting as a sub-committee of the senate committee on agriculture, requesting my opinion on the 'export debenture plan' for agricultural relief, since it is a complete departure from the principles already debated during the campaign. I informed the committee that I would request an analysis of the plan by the departments of agriculture, treasury and commerce, and would transmit them to the committee together with my conclusions after investigation. The departments have given it earnest consideration and I have just received and studied these reports which I transmit to you herewith.

Artificial Scarcity.
"The principle of this plan as set out in the draft bill of your committee which is before me, is to issue a government debenture to merchants exporting agricultural products in amount of one half of the tariff on such products—such debentures to be redeemed by presentation for payment of import duties. The assumption is that by creating a scarcity through stimulating exports that the domestic price will rise above world prices to the amount of the debenture—that is, if the debenture on wheat exports is 21 cents a bushel, the price of wheat will be 21 cents higher in the domestic market than in the world market.

"I am aware of the arguments put forward in favor of the plan by some of our agricultural organizations; and the arguments of other farm organizations in opposition to it. The promoters assure it in the utmost good faith and earnest desire to assist in solution of a great problem and I regret deeply that I cannot agree that such provision would bring the results expected. On the contrary I am convinced that it would bring disaster to the American farmer.

"The weaknesses of the plan as set forth in the senate bill may be summarized as follows:

"1.—The issue of debentures to export merchants and their redemption in payment of import duties amounts to a direct subsidy from the United States treasury. If the plan proposed were generally applied it would cost in excess of $200,000,000 a year, as it would decrease the treasury receipts by such an amount.

Gift to Speculators.
"2.—The first result of the plan, if put into operation, would be a gigantic gift from the government and the public to the dealers and manufacturers and speculators in these commodities. For instance, in the principal export commodities the value of the present volume of stocks in possession of these traders would, if the plan were carried out, be increased from $200,000,000 to $400,000,000, according to different calculations, with a cent return to the farmer or consumer.

"Every speculator for a rise in our public markets would receive enormous profits. Conversely, if after this elevation of prices the plan were at any time for any reason withdrawn the trades would suffer a like loss, and a long line of bankruptcies must ensue. But in the meantime the trades out of fear of withdrawal or of reduction in the subsidy, will not engage in normal purchase and distribution.

"Either exorbitant margins would be required or alternatively the farmer would be compelled to himself hold the nation's stocks until there was a demand for actual consumption.

"3.—If the increased price did reflect to the farmer, the plan would stimulate overproduction and thereby increase world supply, which would in turn depreciate world prices and consequently decrease the price which the farmer would receive, and thereby defeat the plan.

"Stimulation of production has been the outstanding experience abroad where export subsidy has been applied. Overproduction will defeat the plan and then, upon its withdrawal, agriculture would be plunged into a catastrophe or deflation from over-expanded production. The farmer's difficulties are in some part due to this process after the war.

Just Another Board.
"4.—The stimulation of production of certain commodities would disturb the whole basis of diversification in American agriculture, particularly in the cotton and wheat sections, where progress is now being made toward a more stable basis of agriculture.

"5.—Although it is proposed that the plan should only be installed at the discretion of the farm board, yet the tendency of all boards is to use the whole of their authority, and more certainly in this case, in view of the pressure from those who would not understand its possibility of harm, and emphatically from the interested dealers in the commodity.

"6.—It is not proposed to pay the debentures of subsidies to the farmers, but the export merchants, and it seems certain that a large part of it would not be reflected back to the farmer. It offers opportunity for manipulation in the export market none of which would be of advantage to the farmer. The conditions of competitive marketing at home and abroad and the increased risk would absorb a considerable part of its effect into the distribution and manufacturing trades. Moreover, the theoretical benefits would be further diminished by the fact that debentures would sell constantly at a discount, for the reason that persons paying duties upon imports would not take the trouble to accumulate the debentures and lose interest upon them unless obtainable at a discount.

"7.—The provision of such an export subsidy would necessitate a revision of the import tariffs. For instance, an export subsidy of two cents a pound on raw cotton would mean the foreign manufacturers would be receiving cotton at two cents a pound less than the American manufacturer and the foreigner could ship his manufactured goods back into the American market with this advantage. As the subsidy in many cases is larger than the freight to foreign ports and back, it raises large opportunities of fraud in return shipment activities.

Favors Foreign Nations.
"8.—Export bounties are recognized by many nations as one form of dumping. I am advised that a similar action by another nation would be construed as a violation of our own laws. Such laws are in force in the principal countries of our export markets and to protect their own agriculture would probably lead to action which would nullify the subsidy given by us.

"9.—A further serious question arises again (if the plan did have the effect intended) where the foreign producer of animals would be enabled to purchase feed for less than the American farmer producing the same animals. For instance, the swine growers in Ontario would be able to purchase American corn for less than the American farmers across the border and it would tend to transfer the production of products for export to Europe from the United States to Canada. It would have the same and probably even more disastrous effect in dairy products.

"10.—The plan would require a substantial increase in taxes as no such expenditure or depletion of revenues as this plan implies could be paid from marginal income of the government more particularly in view of the very large increased expenditures imposed by the naval program, flood control and other branches of farm relief.

"Altogether, from the above reasons, it is my belief that the theoretical benefits would not be reflected to the American farmer; that it would create profiteering; that it contains elements which would bring American agriculture to disaster.

"The production of such a plan would also inevitably confuse and minimize the much more far-reaching plan of farm relief, upon the fundamental principles of which there has been general agreement.

"I am, Sir, very respectfully,
"Yours faithfully,
"HERBERT HOOVER."

Judge H. D. Reed Withholds Decision On Legislative Race

Waycross, Ga., April 21.—(Special.) Judge Harry D. Reed has not yet announced whether he will enter the race for representative from Ware county to succeed the late J. E. T. Bowden. Yesterday and today petitions have been in circulation and it is known that these petitions have already been signed by a large number of voters. It is expected that Judge Reed will make his decision known either Monday or Tuesday.

Thomasville Sends Roses for Rotary
Thomasville, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—Rotarians of Thomasville will get their first consignment of roses for the district convention of Rotary, which opens in Albany on Monday. Started to that city early Monday morning. Many of the roses were taken Sunday afternoon to the plant of the Thomasville Ice Company, and put on cold storage there. Again on Tuesday morning another big consignment goes to Albany from here, the two lots making up a carload or more. The roses today were even more plentiful, and perhaps more perfect, than they were on Rose Show day. The warm weather of the past three days has brought them to blossom by the tens and hundreds of thousands. The Thomasville Rotary Club is booked to put on a model luncheon at the district convention on Tuesday.

The EDGWOOD Red Cedar Shingle is a 300% perfect shingle - 100% heart wood, 100% clear, 100% edge grain. Sawed edge grain, it positively will not warp, cup or curl, but lies perfectly flat to the sheathing for fifty years or more when laid with waterproof nails.

Do not confuse EDGWOOD Shingles with the ordinary flat grain shingle which is also made from red cedar, but which we do not trade-mark EDGWOOD, as they warp, cup and curl, and should only be used on temporary structures.

You save the labor cost of removing old shingles and ugly litter which may damage shrubs and plants. You get a doubly-insulated roof... greater comfort summer and winter and a saving of 10% to 61.1% in fuel bills. Laid with rustproof nails an EDGWOOD roof will last for fifty years or more.

An EDGWOOD roof has five major advantages... Low Cost, phenomenal Durability, beautiful Appearance, maximum Fire Resistance and Insulation. Re-roof for the last time with EDGWOOD Shingles.

GEORGIA EDUCATION DELEGATES CLOSE SAVANNAH MEETING

Savannah, Ga., April 21.—(AP)—Urged by their newly-elected president, J. E. Purks, of Cedarstown, to assist him in accomplishing the aims of the Georgia Education Association for the coming year, delegates of the organization have returned to their homes after a three-day convention, which closed here Saturday.

The association recommended the creation by the legislature of a survey commission of 12 members to make a scientific appraisal of the state system of schools and colleges, with power to employ expert investigators, and urged a bond issue for schools should the legislature submit a road bond issue to the people of the state for ratification.

Other officers elected included J. L. Yaden, Moultrie, vice president; L. M. Lester, Griffin, treasurer, and J. I. Allman, Dalton, director for three years.

FLORIDA LEGISLATURE TO GET TAX BILL SOON

Only One Piece of Major Legislation Yet Given to Lawmakers.

Tallahassee, Fla., April 21.—(AP)—Entering tomorrow upon its fourth week of lawmaking activity, the Florida legislature still awaited introduction, with one major exception, of the most vital parts of its program.

The exception was the measure brought into the Senate Friday to prohibit sale or shipment of immature citrus fruit.

Another bill, which has assumed unexpected proportions in legislative circles, was ready for early consideration. This was the workmen's compensation act, a measure framed along the lines of the uniform act now in force in 44 states.

Of the major legislation yet to make its appearance, the administration tax bills held the center of attention. Governor Carlton announced yesterday that practically his entire program for stabilizing the state's tax structure was ready for consideration by the law-making bodies.

Running a close second in interest to the taxation issue, was the expected presentation this week of the appropriation bill.

The budget, made public several days ago, called for a total of nearly $13,000,000. Legislation regarding the operation of race tracks in Florida has remained so far under cover. Another important issue, which has advanced into the limelight in the past few days, is flood control for the Everglades district.

Members of all Christian churches in Atlanta will attend the meeting. Dr. Burnham recently returned from a nine-month tour of foreign fields, including the Orient and Europe.

Hubby Eats Peanuts Wife Happy Again

"I can enjoy anything I eat from beans to peanuts, since taking Adlerika. I am no longer grouchy and wife is happy."—Geo. W. Smith.

The simple mixture of glycerin, buckthorn bark, etc. (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLED action. It acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes foul matter that poisoned the system for months. It clears GAS and sourness from the stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adlerika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis and rheumatism.

Dr. H. L. Shoup, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adlerika checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to exceed Adlerika."

J. E. Pickett: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

It will surprise you the great amount of poisons Adlerika brings out—you would never believe they were in your system. In chronic constipation, GAS, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adlerika brings wonderful relief. At leading druggists. Send for FREE check-board. ADLERIKA, Dept. ### BILLY GUARD AND DUDLEY GLASS ENTERTAIN

That Opera Season Is On

BY N. S. NOBLE.

"Billy" Guard, "of the Metropolitan," other than which no introduction is in order, and the Dudley Glasses Sunday opened grand opera week in such a style that no further doubt need be entertained that the 1929 season is to be a "whole of a success."

Mr. Guard, who is never called "Mister," entertained old friends of years past and some new friends of the grand opera picture this year at his annual dinner preceding the opening performance at the Robert Fulton hotel.

The Dudley Glasses picked up where "Billy" left off and at their beautiful home at 135 Lakeview avenue held open house all afternoon and into the early evening to the dinner guests, newspaper men and women, and those connected with the pre-grand opera work in general.

Mr. Guard met his friends in a private dining room at 12:30 o'clock and after greetings were over, an informal family talk over old times and did full justice to their host's board. (Note: The Atlanta chapter of the "Hard-Boiled Eggs" was duly installed, and that's all of the secret that may be told.)

At the glasses, the grounds and the big, wide porches, the living rooms and the pretty flower garden in the rear, which by the way is of Mrs. Glass' own making and is a delight, were thrown open to all the 75 or more who dropped in to start the season off as it should be.

A buffet lunch was served as the sun was shining brightly and the guests were taking their departure with a word about the party, to wash the dishes and tidy up the place.

Multiply by those who know those spoken above. If you run out of paper, just total the column as one of the gayest gatherings possible in Atlanta and you will be as nearly right as is possible without having been there yourself.

WIFE OF VICTIM

was furnished detectives Saturday night by Mrs. Hayes. Immediately after she had been taken to the hospital, but her terse and incoherent statement threw little light on the affair, officers declared.

The wife of the alleged narcotic peddler told Detectives J. M. Austin and H. W. Armstrong that she and her husband were sitting in the living room of their home about 8:45 o'clock when the doorbell rang. Mrs. Hayes said she went to the door and was confronted by a stranger who asked to see "Speedy."

"Who are you and what do you want?" Mrs. Hayes said she inquired. "Aw, you wouldn't know if I told you—lemme see 'Speedy' was Lohden's retort."

Mrs. Hayes then called her husband to the door but she remained in the living room, she said.

"Speedy" hardly had time to reach the door when he heard the sound of a struggle, followed by a single shot," the woman continued. "I ran out into the corridor, but before the situation became clear to me I felt a stinging sensation in the abdomen and collapsed in the doorway, falling back on the living room floor."

"Then I heard a fusillade of shots," Mrs. Hayes said, and "Speedy" staggered in the room and fell down on the floor beside me.

Because of her extremely critical condition Mrs. Hayes at a late hour Sunday had not yet been told of her husband's death.

Lohden escaped from Kilby prison April 17 in a laundry box for the second time since he began a 20-year sentence February 11, 1928. His first escape occurred May 11, 1928, and shortly afterward Lohden with two other men, John Smith and E. A. Hambrick, both fugitives from the same institution, held up and robbed the Hanks Store and Range Works at Rome of a $2,000 payroll.

They were trailed for several days by posse and finally captured. Lohden was returned to Kilby prison for a year term imposed following his conviction in Jefferson county, Alabama, on charges of robbery and receiving stolen property.

Under Police Charges.

Hayes and his wife were docketed to appear before Judge Murphy M. Holloway in police court Saturday afternoon on disorderly conduct charges, growing out of their arrest Friday morning at the Hayes home on an accusation by Hayes that he was following a light between the two, Call Officers Whitley and Watkins said.

Officers said they were called to the Hayes residence by neighbors who were alarmed by shrieks from the house. The altercation grew out of an accusation by Hayes that his wife had been "running around with other men," the officers said. The pair posted $100 collateral each on the disorderly conduct charges and were released. They did not appear in court when their cases were called.

Arrangements for the funeral for Hayes will be announced later by Harry G. Poole, funeral director, while the body of Lohden will be sent to Norfolk, Va., some time today by rail. Lohden was arrested by the police following instructions received Sunday from a Norfolk politician. Lohden is survived by his mother, who lives in the Virginia city.

Near Death From Bullet

Mrs. S. E. Hayes, near death from bullet fired at her, police reports say, by Leslie Lohden during a duel between Lohden and her husband, which was fatal for both.

The conference is expected to result in an announcement from some official quarter one way or another. If the postmaster general is upheld, those who know Colonel Mann express no hesitancy in saying he will refuse absolutely to have anything further to do with southern organization affairs.

Conversely, if the southern manager is upheld and the committee remain intact, Mr. Hoover's action could not be interpreted otherwise than as repudiating his postmaster general and Mr. Burke for their interference tactics. What might follow from this is open to speculation.

Meantime, Colonel Mann said today he was expecting a high rate of speed and the Georgia patronage committee, H. G. Hastings and Lindsey Hopkins, both of Atlanta, to come to Washington this week for a conference on the matter. Also he is expecting National Committeeman Skipper, of Florida.

Had Hoover Approval.

In the case of Georgia and South Carolina, the committee was given consideration to the matter now and already had received a long list of applications to serve.

The statement of the postmaster general caused something akin to amazement among Washington observers who have closely followed developments in the southern patronage situation, which already has precipitated an open break between Mann and Chairman Hubert Work, of the republican national committee. In informed circles it has been the understanding, however, from the start that the committee in Georgia, North Carolina and Florida were not only selected with the consent of President Hoover, but were actually approved by him before their announcement.

GERMANY GIVES FREE REIGN TO DELEGATION

Debt Experts Return to Paris To Re-Open Reparations Parley.

Berlin, April 21.—(United News.) The government decided today not to intervene directly in the Paris reparations conference, although advisers from the French capital indicated that only a complete reversal of Germany's attitude could save the committee of financial experts from complete failure.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht and Albert Voegler, German delegates to the committee, discussed possibilities of saving the situation with the cabinet for five hours today. The delegates then left for Paris where they will have an opportunity to present any change in the German attitude at a plenary session of the committee tomorrow.

It was understood that the cabinet instructed the delegates to avoid discussion at Paris of any topics likely to be interpreted as political, such as the re-establishment of German sources of income which would involve terms of the Versailles treaty.

Dr. Schacht was charged with raising such issues and thereby causing the collapse of negotiations at Paris last week.

To Have Freedom of Action.
An official announcement said Dr. Schacht and Voegler had informed the cabinet of the reparations situation and said the Schacht memorandum, which implied readjustment of German frontiers, was devoted exclusively to economic suggestions. These suggestions, the official statement said, were interpreted as political proposals in many quarters.

The suggestions were never a topic of discussion, it was said, either in the sub-committee meeting or plenary sessions.

The statement concluded that the German experts would continue to enjoy complete freedom of action in further negotiations.

IS SMALL HOPE OF CONTINUATION.
Paris, April 21.—(U.P.)—The offices of the second Dawes committee in the Hotel George V were deserted today for the first time since revision of reparations was taken up more than two months ago. There was nothing more to be done in the opinion of most of the delegates but to register formal failure of the committee.

The small possibility of continuation of negotiations depends on what inspiration Dr. Hjalmar Schacht receives today in Berlin. If on the advice of the reich government, he demands that discussion go on, the conference probably will continue for a few days more, but it will not last long unless the Germans bring in an offer that the allies can consider more serious than that which shocked them last week.

The procedure in event of continuation probably would be first a request by the Germans for further discussion, second, a demand by Chairman Owen D. Young for a revised proposal from the Germans, and third, a request by the Germans for a few days to think the matter over. In any case, it was not thought that the active work of the conference would go beyond the end of the week.

MONROE OFFICERS SINK RUM BOAT IN THE OCMULGEE

Forsyth, Ga., April 21.—(Special.) A still has been destroyed at Dames Ferry by County Policemen Grady Jackson and Will Dame. The intoxicant factory was located on an island in the Ocmulgee river. A white man and a negro deserted the still. They failed to stop when commanded to do so and left their boat on the bank. After destroying the still the officers sank the boat, which they named "I'm Alone."

LOST RESCUE PLANE FOUND IN AUSTRALIA

Pilot Reports Figure Resembling Body Lies Inert Beneath Wing.

Sydney, N. S. W., April 21.—(U.P.)—The airplane Kookaburra was sighted today in the wastes of the Tanami desert, but word of the fate of its crew of two depends on the slow progress of a pack-horse expedition from a point 80 miles away.

Pilot Brain, of the plane Atlanta, one of the several which have searched for the Kookaburra since it vanished 10 days ago, found it today 8 miles from Powell's creek, in the sparsely inhabited bush country of northern Australia. The country was too rough for him to land.

As he circled about it at as low altitude as he dared risk he thought he saw a body lying motionless under a wing of the plane. He was unable to identify the man and saw no sign of a companion or of any life in the vicinity. He dropped a container of drinking water, attached to a parachute, but the figure under the wing made no effort to get it.

Brain flew back to Wave Hill and a pack-horse patrol with relief supplies hastened out across the 80 miles of desert to where the airplane lay. Brain reported that the Kookaburra appeared undamaged and was on the edge of a stretch of ground which recently had been burned. In fact, parts of it still were smoking, and this led to hopes that it was fired by the gunmen to attract attention. The figure under the wing might be only exhausted and not dead. It was hoped that the relief now hurrying toward him might be able to revive him.

Lieutenant Keith Anderson and Robert Hitchcock started out two weeks ago in the Kookaburra to search for the airplane Southern Cross, which was then missing in western Australia. The Southern Cross has since been found, with its four men safe, although weak from starvation, and a few days ago was flown back to civilization.

R. R. MOTON INVITED TO FORSYTH A. & M.

Forsyth, Ga., April 21.—(Special.) An invitation has been extended to R. R. Moton, principal of Tuskegee institute, to deliver an address here in connection with the observance of Founders Day at the A. & M. school for negroes. The city council and also the Forsyth Lions Club joined with the school in extending the invitation.

VICTIM OF RAIDER HAD NO WEAPON. PROBE DISCLOSES

Mansfield, Ohio, April 21.—(U.P.)—State Prohibition Agent E. C. McGaw, of Toledo, was held in the Richland county jail without bond today as the result of the shooting of Frank Pellegi, soft drink proprietor, during a raid yesterday.

Sheriff Ralph A. Schad said McGaw, who is charged with shooting with intent to kill, would be held until the state prohibition department completes an investigation and until it is known whether Pellegi would recover. Pellegi today was in a critical condition.

The shooting occurred yesterday, when McGaw, an undercover agent, Schad and deputies went to Pellegi's place. While the remainder of the raiders stayed outside, McGaw went in and asked for a bottle of liquor. He said Pellegi gave him a bottle, but tried to knock it from his hand a moment later and reached under the counter as if trying to get a gun. The agent then fired, he reported.

Sheriff Schad said he failed to find any weapon in Pellegi's place.

LAGUARDIA PROTESTS LIQUOR ON LEVIATHAN

Washington, April 21.—(U.P.)—In a letter to Secretary Mellon, Representative F. H. Laguardia, republican, New York, a leading wet, today called upon the treasury head to prohibit the sale of liquor on board the Leviathan, now sailing from France to New York with an announced supply of alcoholic beverages for its passengers.

"Under the law," Laguardia wrote, "the department of which you are at the head is entrusted with the enforcement of the prohibition laws. The prohibition laws are national in their scope and purpose. While a great many of us are convinced that this is a law for the poor but not for the rich and affluent, yet as long as it remains on the statute books it is a law, and some of us who are opposed to the law demand its enforcement."

"Prohibition has cost legitimate industry in this country, to date, hundreds of millions of dollars. It has cost the people of the United States, since its enactment, over one billion dollars. Let it continue on its destructive course and enforce it on these American ships even though it may put their operators in the bankruptcy court."

"The government cannot disclaim knowledge of the possession, use, and sale of liquor on these ships. The government holds a mortgage of over 75 per cent of the value of every one of these ships. The government is exactly in the same position as the owner of a building who knowingly permits the violation of the prohibition law by one of his tenants and indirectly participates in the proceeds of the bootlegging business by receiving and accepting the rent therefor."

"If the possession, use and sale of liquor on the Leviathan is justified as a business necessity, then I submit that the same reasoning should hold for operation of a large hotel in any city in the country."

MRS. ELLA A. BOOLE ALSO ENTERS PROTEST.

Chicago, April 21.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, today sent the United States Lines, Inc., a protest against the sale of liquor aboard the liner Leviathan.

Coupled with the name of the liner, the provision for the sale of intoxicants would be a blow at prohibition itself and contribute to the violation of the law at home, the letter stated.

"In view of the statement of your executive vice president that you will not expect to make money out of the sale of intoxicants, we earnestly urge that you consider the comfort and well being of that large class of travelers who prefer to travel on ships where no liquor is sold," Mrs. Boole's statement, concluded.

"I wish I could Tell the World How Father John's Medicine Helped Me Regain Health"

Miss Emily G. Baker, 12 Coventry Street, Newport, Vt., suffered from chronic bronchitis which left her open to colds and lowered her powers of resistance.

"I coughed myself to a shadow," she writes, "until I took Father John's Medicine. Soon I was feeling fine again. I now eat and sleep well and the cough has left me."

"Father John's Medicine has done so much for me that I wish I could tell the world about it."

FISHER ANNOUNCES

A Nation-wide System of BODY SERVICE

Fisher Body announces the organization of a new unit, the Fisher Body Service Corporation, to provide a nation-wide system of body service to all owners of General Motors cars.

How vast and far-reaching will be the service rendered by this organization is indicated by the fact that there are today over 23,000 General Motors dealer's service stations throughout the United States.

The system inaugurated by the Fisher Body Service Corporation will be the first centralized, economic and truly efficient body service the industry has yet known. Such a service system is possible of course to General Motors alone, because Fisher Body, the source of bodies for all General Motors cars, is a corporate part of General Motors, which it supplies with bodies year after year—thus being certain always of this great permanent market.

Fisher Body Service makes available to every General Motors car owner everything he may require in the way of body maintenance and rehabilitation, and will enable him to obtain complete service—service for car body as well as car chassis—from one source, his car dealer. Such service as the elimination of body annoyances, the adjusting of tie-down bolts, the periodical dressing of the roof, the lubrication of door lock bolts, door checks and hinges, the cleansing of soiled upholstery, the bumping of fenders or panels, will be performed in your dealer's service department.

The car owner will be thus freed from the necessity of turning for his car body's maintenance to small shops whose inadequate equipment compels them to charge exorbitant prices, and from which genuine Fisher Body parts are not obtainable.

Now, through General Motors dealers, Fisher Body parts will be supplied at factory list prices wherever and whenever they are required, registering a marked saving to the car owner.

For General Motors dealers—and their mechanics who have been instructed in the care of bodies for more than a year—there have been made available the tools and equipment necessary for actual and immediate service.

Two Fisher Body service schools have been established—one in Detroit, one in Oakland, California—where thousands of General Motors men will be trained. The Fisher Body Service Corporation has also established Parts Depots at these points where complete stocks of genuine Fisher Body parts for General Motors cars are held ready for immediate shipment upon order of General Motors dealers.

Fisher Body considers the inauguration of this nation-wide Fisher Body service a vital, progressive contribution to the public, especially because of the immensely increased interest which owners are manifesting everywhere in body beauty, body comfort and body durability.

General Motors Spring Showing, April 20th to 27th. Be sure to visit a General Motors Showroom during this week.

THE FIDGETING FARMERS.

Concert of action is often the sine qua non of success. Daniel O'Connell, the great Irish lawyer, once told his landlady that if the bugs in his bed the night before had been unanimous and all pulled one way they would have landed him on the floor.

President Hoover, as it were, has told the farm relief agitators that if they would only become unanimous and pull one way they will certainly get substantial farm relief.

But it appears impossible to get all those lobby agrarians in Washington, who plow with their type-writers and sow with their calculating machines, to agree upon any coherent and comprehensive plan for putting farming upon a parity with the other going industries of the country!

President Hoover will receive general sympathy while he is trying to herd and guide those long-horn professional farmers. He wishes to redeem his campaign pledges of speedy and actual farm relief. He sees the problem as one of pure economics. But the self-elected apostles of farm relief see it as a personal and political issue. Hence the present stalling on the subject at Washington.

Possibly when the whole question gets spread out in congress there will come a season of common sense and majorities in both houses will agree upon a bill which will enter the country upon another "noble experiment!"

UNCLE SAM AND RUSSIA.

There will quickly develop wide and deep differences of opinion among the people over an attempt by Senator Borah and those who think with him to have the government of the United States recognize and enter into full diplomatic relations with the soviet republic of Russia.

No one questions the right of the soviets to run the government of Russia as they will. That is between the soviet usurpers and the people whom they, for the present, are dominating. Neither can anyone question the right of the American people to regard that sort of government as abhorrent to all their principles of liberty, justice and the orderly courses of world-wide civilization.

Manifestly the current sentiment of our people is against intercourse with men who denounce our form of government, advocate the freedom of anarchy, and avow their endeavors to sow discontent and revolution in all the well-governed nations of the globe.

There is no compensation that commerce between the United States and Russia can satisfy for a surrender by us of the fundamental principles of our society and political faiths. Senator Borah will not add to the laurels of his distinguished career by advocating "hands across the sea" by the people of Washington and Jefferson and those of Lenin and Stalin.

THIS MELLON VINDICATION.

Perhaps it was well enough that the eligibility of Secretary Mellon to be secretary of the treasury was put into question. There is a law of the nation that the official who manages the fiscal affairs of the government and people should have no immediate interest in financial and commercial business.

That law was invoked in President Grant's administration when he nominated Alexander T. Stewart, the merchant prince of that era, to be secretary of the treasury. In that case the legal bar was obvious and the nomination was withdrawn. Mr. Mellon was known, practically, ly world-wide, prior to the election of Harding in 1920, as one of the foremost bankers and business promoters of the nation. It was a big surprise to the nation when he was named to be secretary of the treasury, and the question of his legal ineligibility was then whispered in political and business circles. But it became understood that before assuming the high office he divested himself of all active connections with his banks and other trade interests.

Those who do not like him either personally or officially have done him and the country a service by dragging his right to hold the office into the open and so allowing it to be definitely and satisfactorily settled. He is a great secretary of the treasury and the people are satisfied with his eminent services.

MORE HULL THAN KERNEL.

It is to be regretted that Congressman Cordell Hull, of Tennessee, cannot reason himself away from the ancient notion that "the tariff is a tax" and its schedules should be levied "for revenue only." Those were once accepted democratic principles, but they are not so now.

Mr. Hull insists that the democrats in congress should revamp those slogans and go crying them into the oncoming battle in congress over a new tariff bill. He mistakes the modern temper of his Tennessee democratic constituents and that of the whole south in this era of expansion of our regional industries.

Take Georgia, for instance, and it is fairly certain that upon a ballot-box showdown, our people would vote by a large majority for a protective tariff. With a "tariff for revenue only" the fires in a thousand furnaces in Georgia would be extinguished almost overnight, millions of capital now invested and to be invested in Georgia industries would flee the state, and thousands of men and women workers would take their latest pay envelope and walk out to fight the world again for work and wages.

The fact that our tariff law makes it hard for our debtors across the sea to pay what they owe us, with goods factored by them from cheap materials and laborers, is no sane reason why we should shut our shops in order to buy cheaper goods from the bargain counters of Europe. The democrats in congress and on the outside from ocean to ocean will make a fatal economic blunder if they adopt a policy of subsidizing European industries and subsidizing the half-starved working people who carry them on.

MOTHER AND THE MAID.

The perennial dispute over the employment of married women as public school teachers has come again into publicity and the old straw of past debates and actions is being threshed over in Tennessee and New Jersey just now.

The average parent does not put much stress upon the sex of teachers, or whether or not they are married. The ordinary person wonders what great psychological, or pedagogical, or economic consideration, should influence a board of education to ostracize from school rooms men and women teachers simply because they are married. The common impression is that, on an average, the married women better understand their profession and are more efficient in a classroom where the young idea is learning to shoot, flower and bring forth worthwhile fruit.

The married women teachers at Knoxville, Tennessee, have demanded that married men be excluded also with themselves. That sounds in reason and in due justice. That would equalize conditions, while establishing no justification of the tabu against the wives and mothers.

An excuse is given that married women teachers are keeping jobs whereby young unmarried women are denied teaching employment. Of course, that is the most ludicrous excuse that could be trumped up and goes far to show that the exclusion of married women teachers is arbitrary and without valid justification.

Surveys of the schools have been made in both large and small cities to discover if there is any pedagogical reason why young maidens, who mostly would not know how to pin a breach-clout upon a baby, are better teachers than the married women, and no such finding of super-efficiency of the maiden teachers has been found. And that is that!

If the president was to select a Chicago man for ambassador to England why didn't he choose Big Bill Thompson? He knows his English.

Sinclair will make his own bed in jail. As he made his own bed in getting there he will be adept from the start.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Buddhism for the West.

A serious movement is under way to launch a great Buddhist mission in Europe. It is already certain that Paris is to have a Buddhist temple of considerable magnitude. This temple will be dedicated to having a suitable hall set aside for religious ceremonial, be a center of propaganda. Lectures will be given there in all languages and an extensive publicity campaign is already under way. One Buddhist priest, Shih-tah, has been designated to look over the ground prior to the invasion of America by a score of missionaries. Some of the propaganda put out by Buddhist is of curious nature. Buddhism is not only pictured as a panacea of the world's ills, but the fact is emphasized that it is the only religion, of Aryan origin, Christianity and Mohammedanism being both Semitic off-springs of Judaism. The fact is used as an argument, especially to win over the Germans of Ludendorff's persuasion. For Ludendorff has long been on the warpath against the alien to the German spirit. He wants a return to Wotan and Freya and Tor, the primitive cult of the barbarian Germans. Westerners need not borrow from the east. Their imagination is rich enough to evolve a religion of their own, and one better suited to their spiritual needs. Whether the general has any sympathy for the Aryan religion of Buddhism remains to be seen. What he wants is a Nordic cult.

Belgian Elections.

Like her neighbor across the channel, Belgium is getting ready for a general election in May. Usually such an event in the little kingdom is of no particular world significance, although important enough, of course, to its citizens. This time, however, new currents of political thought have been set in motion. The election will in a large measure decide the future construction of the country. Several ideas favor the "Belgian" state, with separate administrative branches for Flanders and Walloon. Apart from racial extremists, who in Walloon (capital Liege) favor a union of their region with France, and in Flanders, where non-Nederlandians (capital Antwerp) look for a union with Holland, the majority of the people inhabiting Belgium do not want to see a division of the kingdom. Hence the federalist movement, the model of the United States and the German republic, is set up as a compromise. The elections will, it is expected, show whether the federalist movement is an ancient tradition in all the Low Countries, and an orientation of the Belgian body politic in the future will not come as a surprise. Should this compromise not meet with favor, the Walloon nationalists believe complete separation between the two parts of the country will in time become inevitable. And here, of course, the Flemish nationalists heartily concur with them.

American Theaters For Paris.

A lot has been said and written already on the Americanization of Paris. And, indeed, a short stroll along the boulevards will quickly convince one of the influence of such rooms, soda fountains, musical comedies, motion picture houses "American bars" will convince one of the growing influence of Uncle Sam. But now a beginning has been made with the importation of a whole colony of American theater. The movement is led by Edward Tiltus, the book publisher from behind whom every American in Paris knows, and Helen Rubinstein. Plays that fall under the ban of New York, and the big Broadway shows are to be given a try-out in this Paris-American theater. A second "American" theater, the "Theater of the Future," is being organized by Howard Rubin as art director and Sally Sheldon as "regisseur." Promoters of both groups also plan to produce translations of French plays, hits, something to facilitate their importation into the United States. The first pieces on the program of the "Theater of the Future" are O'Neill's "Bound East for Cardiff," Sandermann's "Streets of Light" and Don Marquis' "Loah, Joah and Cap'n Sins." At the same time Frenchmen are working with American stage formulas. In the Rue Montmartre a "Theater of the Future" is being organized by the Frenchmen. The opening piece played there: "Rose Cocktail" brought back memories of New York burlesque houses. But that doesn't mean the song numbers were in the happy-go-lucky Montmartre chansonier style, that is, "spiritual and abundantly gay." (Copyright, 1929, for The Constitution.)

Timely Views of Noted Americans

FOES OF "FIVE AND TEN" LAW LASHED.

BY WESLEY JONES.

Senator From Washington (Wesley Jones) at Bethany, Md., October 9, 1893. He is a graduate of Southern Illinois college. Admitted to the bar in 1895. He moved to the territory of Washington just before it was admitted to the Union. He was elected to the Senate in 1917. He served in congress from 1919 to 1926, from Washington at large. In the latter year he was elected to the Senate and is now serving his fourth term. He is a republican and one of the recent Jones law increasing the penalties for violation of the Volstead act.

A coterie of young lawyers in New York is said by the press to have formed an association pledged to offer their services to defend poor and indigent persons charged with violations of the so-called "Five and Ten" law. They do not need to do that. The courts can, and do, appoint lawyers now to defend paupers and indigent offenders, no matter what crime is charged.

Why do these lawyers make this grandstand play? Are they afraid of this law? Have they reason to doubt the wisdom and humanity of the judges of New York or of any other city? Do they want to discredit the law because they fear they may be deprived of their liquor?

Why don't they have the courage to come out openly and boldly for the repeal or modification of the eighteenth amendment? They have just as much right to do that as I have to support whatever measures are deemed necessary to enforce that amendment.

This law is simple, plain and clear. It provides a maximum penalty for violations of the express prohibitions of the eighteenth amendment. It does not make this judge cannot do, but he can impose as light a penalty as the facts in any particular case may warrant. There is nothing unjust about it. Those seeking to impress the people that it is unduly severe are evidently seeking to protect the bootlegger and commercializer of the law's violations.

A person may possess a million, or less.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

BY DR. S. PARKES CADMAN.

Cambridge, Mass.
Will you kindly comment on the book, "Why Rome Fell," by Edward Lucas White? His conclusions that the world would have been better off if paganism had triumphed instead of Christianity seem to me to call for an answer from you.

Mr. White's admiration for the law and politics of the Roman empire blinds him to the deep seated evils which corrupted the moral life of its citizens. His militaristic view is seen in the following sentence: "Rome's most conscious achievement was to win wars by vigor in preparation, judgment in attack, valor in battle, tenacity after defeat and justice after victory" (page 170).

He contends that this achievement should have been solidified and perpetuated for the welfare of humanity. The records of military force since the fall of Rome contradict this conclusion. His analysis of the external cause of that collapse is searching and measurably complete, but he is not equally happy in his discussion of Christianity.

To say that it emphasized thoughts rather than deeds and that its representatives were intolerant fanatics who spread hatred and not love, is to twist the historical facts of the case.

Turn to St. Augustine. His majestic massiveness of mind furnishes a contrast to Mr. White's hectic pleading. His strong masculine nature knows no cowardly softness, banities, nor did he sacrifice the truth to his theories. The African Father embodies an epoch, created a school of prophecy, met the religious creeds of the west in a legal and philosophic mold, and stamped his personality upon the spiritual development of the race for 1,500 years after his death.

I submit he is worthy of your consideration, especially as he wrote his magnum opus, "The City of God," some 500 years after the fall of Rome. In that authoritative work St. Augustine met the accusation that Christianity had weakened the morale of the empire and showed on the contrary, that it was the vices of Rome's society and the constant drain of her frontier wars which sapped her strength. The culpable self-complacency of her rulers and of the patrician classes accelerated the tragedy. Nothing could avert it. When it came, the pagans fled for safety, many Christians, although their lives were gravely imperiled, remained at their posts and ministered to the suffering multitudes.

You perceive there is nothing new in Mr. White's theory. Medical history tells us that the fall of Rome was not the cause of the fall of the Roman Empire, but the result of it.

Q. Where is Stanford university?

A. The post office is "Stanford university, Calif." It is near the city of Palo Alto.

Q. When should apple trees be pruned?

A. During February and March.

Q. Is it true that Ireland has no snakes?

A. The United States biological survey says that there are no native snakes in Ireland, and never have been, so far as authentic records show. A few attempts have been made to introduce harmless snakes, but as yet none have been established on the island. This may be due to a lack of proper environment, climate, disease or food. The snakes of Ireland are slow-worm or legless lizard, and which superficially looks like a snake, is native in Ireland, and may account for some of the snake stories of that country.

Q. Who is "Cheer" who broadcasts over the radio every morning?

A. He is Charles K. Hooper, of San Francisco, a friend of Herbert Hoover. He was a classmate of Mr. Hoover at Stanford university in 1895, and was co-author with him of "Will Irwin of the Third Liberty Bell."

Q. When did the Third Liberty Bell ring?

est advances in man's quest to cure some diseases that continue to be unsolved will be summarized here tomorrow before the National Academy of Sciences, at the opening session of a three-day annual meeting.
New light will be cast on science'sbattle against tuberculosis by recent discoveries which link chemistry and biology in cooperative effort against the dread disease.
Fundamental research in finding the basic elements which control the chemical make-up of the human body and how these are altered to produce disease will be treated.Later sessions will deal with man's conquest of knowledge in subjects ranging from sun phenomena to the mountains of the west. A new theory, accounting for the storms which cripple radio broadcasting and cause the "northern lights," will be presented.The popular notion that men of science have brains, but not brawn will also be tested by extensive measurements of leading men in cooperative fields from astronomy to zoology.
From study of bodies millions of miles away to the minute cells which make up man will be covered. Reports will be made on research in fundamental science and, of more practical value, their application to human needs.Two medals the Agassiz and James Craig Watson, will be awarded at the centenary's tribute to fellow workers.
The organization, formed in 1863 by a congressional bill signed by President Abraham Lincoln, will pay its tribute to others in election of new members. No more than 15 may be offered a place in this particular who's who of science.Dead Suit Mistrial.
Arlington, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—Trial of a suit brought by heirs of the late Mrs. Bryant Timmons to have set aside a deed given to a daughter, Mrs. M. D. Sasser, to the Timmons home place, near Arlington, which has been in progress in early superior court at Blakely several days was concluded Saturday and resulted in a mistrial. The plaintiffs allege that Mrs. Timmons was of unsound mind because of poor health and advanced age at the time of making the deed and was unduly influenced into making it.BAPTISTS PLAN HOME MISSION BOARD CHANGEConvention in Memphis on May 9 Will Consider Suggestions.Memphis, April 21.—(AP)—Plans for reorganization of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist convention, which have been submitted to the denominational press, are expected to be presented at the meeting of the convention here May 9, it was announced today.
Some of the communications which have been received proposed the consolidation of the board with the foreign mission board, now located at Richmond, and the designation of the proposed body as a board of mission with foreign and home departments.
A new finance plan is expected to be presented by the executive committee of the convention and methods for taking care of the indebtedness confronting several of the boards and other agencies will be offered.Business of the convention will be speeded up through elimination of routine reports that have been heard in previous years under the revised procedure adopted at Chattanooga last year.
The program committee has made a special effort this year to bring an inspirational aspect to the convention and has asked Dr. George W. Truett, president, Dallas, to include a spiritual appeal in his opening address and an evangelistic message at the close of the session Sunday night. Dr. W.
L. Ball, Spartanburg, S. C., who will deliver the convention sermon, will also speak Thursday morning, May 9. Missionaries of the home and foreign mission board are slated to occupy the entire evening program, May 9.
Dr. Walter N. Johnson, of the Ministers' Stewardship league has called a season of prayer at the Central Baptist church for May 8.
The Women's Missionary union, auxiliary to the convention, will hold its annual session starting Monday evening, May 6, and continuing through Wednesday evening, May 8.
It will mark the conclusion of the ruby anniversary program, held in commemoration of the completion of 40 years organized work by the Baptist women of the south.LUTHERAN WOMEN

IN CHICAGO SEARCHChicago, April 21.—(AP)—Search for Frank Thompson, of Kirtland, Ill., who is alleged to have purchased six machine guns from a sporting goods dealer here, just before the massacre of seven Moran gangsters, was intensified today following the arrest of Thompson's wife, Vera, who police said, threw additional light on the case.
Following the testimony last week of Peter Von Frantzius, the sporting goods dealer, before the coroner's jury investigating the massacre that he sold the guns to Thompson, police were dispatched to Kirtland in search of the man. Unable to find Thompson, the officer questioned his wife, who told that her husband was employed by a university in enrollment work.Last night Mrs. Thompson and a male companion were arrested here when they attempted to obtain an automobile from a garage owned by Thompson. Taken to headquarters, Mrs. Thompson was said to have confessed knowledge that her husband purchased the guns from Von Frantzius.She said the guns were brought to their home in Kirtland and that she later took them to Chicago in an automobile.
"They were still in their original packages," she was quoted as saying.
"I did not know what they were. I met my husband and we drove around, meeting several rough looking characters and disposed of these packages for large sums of money."After questioning Mrs. Thompson and her companion, whose identity was not disclosed, the pair were released.One of the machine guns which police believe to have been used in the slaying of the seven gangsters was found shortly after the massacre in the Circus cafe here. Examination of bullets found in the bodies of the slain men by ballistic experts was said to have shown them to have been fired from the gun.Whether police have learned that this gun was one sold to Thompson was not revealed, but in view of the search ordered conducted for the man indicated he possesses information vital to the investigation.TURKISH POLICE NAB 22 ALLEGED REDS IN SMYRNAConstantinople, April 21.—(AP)—Police have arrested 22 alleged Turkish communists in Smyrna and Shamboul charging them with spreading propaganda. Various letters and manifestos were found on those arrested, indicating, police said, that foreign interests were attempting to disseminate communism in Turkey.TERRELL COUNTY
HOGS ARE SOLD
AT $10.39 PER CWT.Dawson, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)
The Terrell County Livestock Association handled through its co-operative sale five cars of hogs, consisting of 480 head, weighing 78,755 pounds, for which $7,471.20 was paid. The sale was conducted under supervision of County Agent A. E. Gibson, and the hogs were bought by the Hall commission, company and the Terrell county. The price paid was $10.39 per hundred pounds for number ones, next to the highest price paid on the local market for the season, which was $10.41 per hundred paid for number ones at the sale conducted here two weeks ago.
The sale Thursday brought the total number of cars shipped since January 4 this year to 63 that weighed 1,029,925 pounds and sold for $85,
780.84.Paying for Funeral
Not Good Evidence
Wife Was DeadMcAlester, Okla., April 20.—(AP)— Fred Smythe paid funeral expenses for his wife who, ironically, he lied her dead. Because she wasn't he now has to go to prison for bigamy.
Smythe pleaded guilty and District Judge Harvey L. Melton sentenced him to three months in jail.
Evidence showed Smythe married the second time after he had forwarded money to relatives of his first wife to pay her funeral expenses. Shortly after the second marriage, however, the first wife appeared and swore out a warrant for Smythe's arrest.
Judge Melton explained that, although he believed Smythe was justified in thinking his first wife dead, a prison term was necessary under the law because Smythe had not waited a period of seven years, when she would have been legally presumed dead.REVELSTOCK BODY IS SENT TO LONDONLondon, April 21.—(AP)—The body of Lord Revelstoke, eminent British financier, who died in Paris last Friday while attending the reparations experts' conference, arrived home today and was taken to the family residence in Carlton House Terrace.
The funeral will be held on Tuesday at Revelstoke, south Devon. On that day the Prince of Wales will represent King George at a memorial service which will be held for Lord Revelstoke at St. Margaret's, Westminster.

FROM THE STUMPLaFayette, La., April 21.—(AP)— Governor Huey P. Long, the center of an impeachment inquiry by the Louisiana house of representatives, today declared 13 members of the senate already have pledged themselves to vote for impeachment without having heard "a word of the evidence."The governor, who took the stump Friday for a series of addresses in rural districts to present his side of the case, spoke today at Abbeville, New Iberia and LaFayette."I have it on reliable authority from the camp of the enemy," Governor Long declared, "that 13 senators already have pledged their votes to impeach me."

SPARTA FAIR GROUNDS
WILL BE REBUILTSparta, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)
The officials of the Hancock Fair Association have found no clue as to the origin of the disastrous fire which completely consumed both of the exhibit buildings at the fair grounds Thursday night. The buildings were all locked up and all of the carnival attaches who wintered on the grounds had gone to northern and being formulated for a much bigger and better exhibit building and work will be started on the structure in time to have it ready before the annual exposition this fall.

Artist Kills Self.

New York, April 21.—(United News.)—Robert Dunlap, 23, commercial artist, who came to Greenwich Village via the Chicago Art school from Salt Lake City to obtain fame with his brush, shot himself dead with a pistol at his flat early today.
A few hours before, he had been gaily discussing his future with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Dunlap, who was visiting him.

Thomasville Divorces.

Thomasville, Ga., April 21.—(Spe-grinding freely in Thomas superior court, now in session in Thomasville.There were eight cases in which total divorce decrees were granted at the present session, and there were a number of others in which first and second verdicts were given.PIMPLES AND BLOTCHES for the fabric by this gentle, thorough dry cleaning

LOOK closely at the cloth in your dress or suit. See how in just one square inch, the woven threads make dozens of tiny crevices where dust may lodge. No wonder it is so difficult to keep fabrics fresh and new. No wonder small particles of grime and dust sink down into the cloth and add to its wear and tear. Regular dry cleaning—dry cleaning that really cleans—protects the fabric and lengthens its life.

The dry cleaning done at these plants actually renews a garment—frees it from ingrained dust, uncovers the natural lustre of the cloth and allows the true color to shine out again, freshly clean. And yet this fine dry cleaning does more than bring back the good looks. It sterilizes every garment—makes it safer, more healthful because it's truly clean.

What Happens when foods
FREEZE?

FOODS and milk undergo a chemical change when they freeze which, if it does not completely spoil them, at least greatly lessens their nutritive qualities.

One day the weather may be too cold for foods—the next day it may be warm and thawing.

The sensible way to keep foods and milk—whatever the weather—is in a good refrigerator—well filled with pure, clear ice.

No other way is as safe and sure. Yet ice costs so little that you cannot afford to be without it.

A few cents worth of ice saves many dollars worth of food.

Athletes Compete at Emory Today for State Track Honors

SIX SCHOOLS ENTER STARS IN CINDER MEET

Opening Gun To Be Fired At 2 O'Clock; Public Invited.

State Golf, Net Meet Here Today

Golf and tennis teams representing state colleges will compete here today for Georgia intercollegiate honors in those two sports.

The tennis matches which will bring together Georgia Tech, Georgia, Mercer and Emory will be played on the courts of Emory university while the golf matches will be contested over the Druid Hills Golf Club course. Starting times for the tennis meet has not been announced while the golf matches will get under way at 9:30 o'clock.

With leading athletes from six state schools entered, the Georgia state intercollegiate track and field meet will be held this afternoon at Emory university. The opening gun will be fired at 2 o'clock. Events will be run off at 15-minute intervals.

The cream of state track talent representing Georgia Tech, University of Georgia, Mercer, Emory and the North Georgia Agricultural college will compete for honors in the various events.

STRONG TEAMS ENTERED. Georgia Tech's winning streak in the state meet, will be threatened more seriously this year. The University of Georgia will send to Atlanta a team composed of outstanding trackmen and who had fair to stop the Jackets. Also, Emory will have on the field a promising bunch of athletes and in Eubanks, Oglethorpe's one-man track team, the Tech boys will find plenty of competition.

The white and gold's best chances are in the distance races. Since sickness removed Ed Hamm, champion jumper and star dash man, the Jackets have no outstanding star but Brewer can be counted on to go a long way in the big events.

Oglethorpe is banking on "Banty" Eubanks to carry off honors in two hurdle events. He will also be entered in the high jump, 120-yard high and 220-yard low hurdles. "Banty" seems to be without a peer in the state in these three events. Baskin, cousin to the great one-mile runner, is being counted on to place in the high jump and the high hurdle events. In his first appearance as a hurdler for the state, Baskin failed to place, but then it must be remembered that he was in extremely fine company.

TO ENTER KEY TEAM. Oglethorpe is planning to enter a team in the mile relay for the first time in a number of years. Just who will compose this quartet is at present uncertain, but Coach Robertson will probably pick them from Threlkeld, Clements, Eubanks, McKissick and Woodard.

Snook and Woodard are the Jackets' best bet in the 100, with Fox and Bell running the 200. Threlkeld is the lone entry in the quarter-mile event. In the discuss are Clements, McKissick and Woodard.

R. J. Spiller Speaks Fondly of His Boys

Crackers Well-Behaved—No Toughers in League This Year.

By Ralph McGill.

Papa Rell Jackson Spiller, leaning his bulk back in his office chair and creaking his feet up on a convenient table, spoke fondly of his boys Saturday afternoon.

It appears that there is no member of the Cracker squad who has a fondness for playing the speakeasies or lounging around the beer-joints. That means, of course, that there will be none of the boys snoring under fly balls or yawning off strikes at the plate and that it will not be necessary to go down to the city cooler in the mornings and bait any of the boys out in time for the game.

All of which is very gratifying to any baseball owner who has his money invested in steel, concrete, grass seeds and ball players who must please the public in order for the game to grow lush and green and for the steel and concrete to remain.

NO TOUGHERS. It brings to mind also that there isn't a tougher in the league and hasn't been in some time. There have been a few fist fights, notably in Atlanta and Chattanooga, but they have been few. The one at Chattanooga, in which Ed Morris and Fred Wingfield polished off a man still in the league, was held behind closed doors and there was no tougher involved.

There hasn't been a two-hour egg in the league since Buster Brown played his first base for the Nashville Vols. The Buster, for the past two years, has been writing from the state cooler in Missouri, asking for baseballs for the prison nine. It seems that he was confined there following a gang slaying in East St. Louis, from which town Buster hailed.

The Buster took pride in being a sort of hard-boiled character. He was a body guard for Larry Doyle when that worthy was managing the Nashville Vols back in 1922-23. No one ever dared bother Larry Doyle.

Before each game it was a custom for the Buster to come around to Larry Doyle and say, "Larry, is there anyone on this team you want me to beat?"

The Buster was quite a class act. He was always frightening the boys.

Uncanny about this wild man of ours, Al Lopez.

Never in all my born days, which have been quite a few, have I seen a recruit break into the Southern league with such dash.

The young man who wore Macon livery last year has charged into the game and hogged all the glory and the home runs and the timely hitting.

Day after day he keeps rampaging around like a mule coit trampling down opposition and chasing runs in over the plate.

HE'LL KEEP ON. Comes a voice from the amen corner: "Just like a recruit; he'll slow up pretty soon."

Let me insert an emphatic negative. Not this Lopez. He is doing exactly what his former boss, Wilbur Good, said he would do. He is simply finding himself in the broader field of Class A baseball.

SONGBIRDS ARRIVE. There is some gossip that is too good to keep. It is a tale of how Wayward Boye, the Mental Marble and all Southern musical critic, got into Atlanta with the "songbirds" as he affectionately calls the Metropolitan outfit.

Wayward was sent up the Southern lines to meet the Met special at Greenville to get aboard and interview the stars. "I'll ask them what they think of Atlanta," he told the city editor just before he left. "I'll get it first."

It took him all morning as the train sped southward to find out with reportorial perseverance he got them interviewed and himself in bed.

LOOK PLEASANT. The special neared Atlanta running an hour ahead of time. The stars repaired to their dressing rooms to repair the make-up, retrieve the roses from the dining car icebox and re-assume the back-home-again smile.

They came out radiant, smiling, and full of song. Sunshin in Georgia. Perfect weather. Look at me, not the camera. And so on.

The train ground to a halt. Wayward grabbed the overnight bag of one of the lady stars and together they grinned their way along to the door.

Out of the vestibule they stepped—Wayward and his songbird-wearing flowers and spring furs and exposing scads of dental work.

No photographers were there. The train had arrived an hour ahead of schedule.

STARK TRAGEDY. Officials hastily summoned from the party at Dudley Glass' were there. A crowd of the curious was there. The sunshin was there.

But nary a grafix. Nary a sensitized plate. Confusion reigned. Tragedy, indeed.

Tragedy, raw, real tragedy and not a make-believe had touched the Met.

HIT 400. Officials hastily summoned from the party at Dudley Glass' were there. A crowd of the curious was there. The sunshin was there.

THREE LEADING STARS

WATCH 'EM

When the national women's golf championship and other major tournaments get under way this season the eyes of the golfing world will turn to the above pictured stars who will be favorites in the coming competitions.

Al Lopez, Brainerd Smash Homers To Square Count, 6-6

Two Circuit Blows Come in Ninth With Nashville Leading, 6-3; Jones Scores Ahead of Atlanta Catcher.

By Blinky Horn.

Nashville, Tenn., April 21.—That right field fence in Sulphur Dell, which the Crackers so often have claimed "hoped" those Vols to win games they did not deserve, yesterday proved an ally of the Georgia gents.

It gave them a 6-to-6 tie in ten wild and woolly frames with the Rowland regiment. Al Lopez, the Cuban catcher, slugged one over the pailings, washing a comrade in ahead during the ninth inning uprising. Then Wilbur Good found Fred Brainerd on the bench doing nothing but twirling his thumbs. So he sent him out to swing a club for Joe Kiefer.

The one-time Giant promptly whaled the agate. It went away over into Fourth avenue. And away went George Milstead's hope for a victory.

FAULTY UMPIRING. The rebellion of the Crackers wiped out a three-run margin, which the mates of the Vol southpaw had collected for him while the venerable Rube Robinson and Joe Kiefer were on the hilltop. Both Cracker gunners were victims of faulty fielding and tangles in umpiring. For plays came up that even the arbiters couldn't unravel.

These umpires are supposed to know everything. But they don't know the answer to a puzzle which arose in the seventh stanza, after Tripp Sigman slammed a smoky projectile into the paws of Frank Haley at first.

Bulldog Williams thought Frank Haley caught the ball. Jack Kerin, behind the platter, broke down and confessed that he did not "see the play."

VOLS SCORE. A Vol tally seeped through during the hubbub for Frank Haley made a weird toss to third and Bill Marriott dimmed it with a still more shabby fling to the plate.

Meanwhile Joe Klugman sneaked home with the sixth tally for those Vols. The Crackers let loose a wild whoop that Beans Miner had bunched into Frank Haley as he speared Sigman's savage out. They belloved lustily. Dick Wade previously had been swelling at Frank Haley to peg to second and make a double play.

Instead he threw to third. There was a tremendous hue and cry. Some said nobody was out. Others said both Sigman and Miner were out. Jack Kerin, the arbiter, just said he didn't see. He wouldn't make a good pool player for you have to take a look in this stud game.

ALL MIXED UP. Everything came to pass during the melee except a practice fire and manslaughter. There were five double plays. Those Vols made three. There were brilliant catches. There were three home runs. There were three errors.

The James boys died too soon. They could have used such gents as Lefty Sigman, Jimmy Horn and Max Rosenfeld were yesterday's heroes. There was a sizzling pick-up of a heave to finish a twin killing. All of which kept the folks in a frenzy.

Then there was a shovelry spell, which threatened to halt the festivities along in the sixth stanza. There was much scurrying around to cover up the diamond. But the sun came peeping out again and hostilities were quickly resumed.

RAIN HALTS GAME. The rain began oozing down along in the third round. Those Vols were about to bust out a grand slam when the rain began to pour. The umpires tried to get in a regulation game. They battled the Crackers and the weather man. They seemed about to win the battle when the rain came down.

They seemed about to win the battle when the rain came down. They seemed about to win the battle when the rain came down. They seemed about to win the battle when the rain came down.

AN EXCITING GAME. The game lasted only six chukkers but it was great while it lasted. It served to open the regular playing season and the Sunday afternoon games between the two Atlanta teams will be a regular thing for the rest of the spring and summer, to be broken times with the appearance of outside teams.

Wing, of McPherson, started things rolling in the first chukker when he flailed the ball mightily in a scrimmage over on the sideboards and sent it down the field for the first goal.

That was all the scoring for the first chukker but there were numerous threats as there were during the game.

The second chukker brought forth a regular scoring jag in comparison to the others when three goals were made.

Moran, at back for the Horse Guards, sank the first one to tie the score. McPherson had committed a foul and a free shot was given the Horse Guards. Moran hit the ball, followed up his shot and drove it through for a goal.

PROCTOR BREAKS TIE. The tie was broken a few minutes later when Proctor and Christian had a beautiful race down the field. Proctor carrying the ball and Christian attempting to ride him off the ball. Christian did take Proctor out, but by that time the ball was close to the goal line and Frank, coming up from behind, sent it into the net. McPherson never caught up. Tolson shot in a goal from scrimmage just as the period ended.

In the third chukker there was much milling around, some great back-handing that kept balls away from the goal and generally good defensive play.

The fourth chukker brought about the Horse Guards' last goal, with Christian making it when he got a free swing at the ball on a foul by McPherson and carried the ball on down for a goal.

The fifth chukker was devoid of scoring but full of hard riding and was interesting.

McPherson made its final goal on a foul with Proctor getting a shot from the 20-yard line, which he made count and the game ended, 4-2.

MANY FIGHTS DURING WEEK

Christner and Canzoneri Will Be in Action During Week.

New York, April 21.—(AP)—Boxing returns to Madison Square Garden this week, after more than a month's lay-off, while the circus was holding forth. Tony Canzoneri, former featherweight champion, tackles Sammy Dorfman, a speedy youngster from the east side, in the 10-round windup of Friday night's card.

Canzoneri, who has been campaigning chiefly among the junior lightweights for the last few months, figures to be a 2 to 1 choice over Dorfman, although the latter has compiled an impressive record against "minor league" opposition in and around New York.

Kid Chocolate, the Cuban flash, makes his first start since his victory, May the first, over Bushy Graham, when he enters the ring at the St. Nicholas arena tomorrow night against Vic Burrone, tough bantam from New York.

At Philadelphia tomorrow night, George Courtney, now in the hunt for Tommy Loughran's light heavyweight title, meets Tom Kirby, the Boston jabber, in a ten-round bout.

Mushy Callahan, the junior welterweight champion, has picked no soft spot in Sping Myers, the Pocahontas puncher, whom he meets in a ten-round match at Los Angeles on Tuesday.

Young Corbett, a leading contender for the welterweight title, gets back into action at San Francisco tomorrow night against Pete Myers, of San Francisco, in a match scheduled for ten rounds.

K. O. Christner, Akron heavyweight, will try his right hand against Jack McLaughlin's chin at Canton, Ohio, in another ten-rounder on Wednesday.

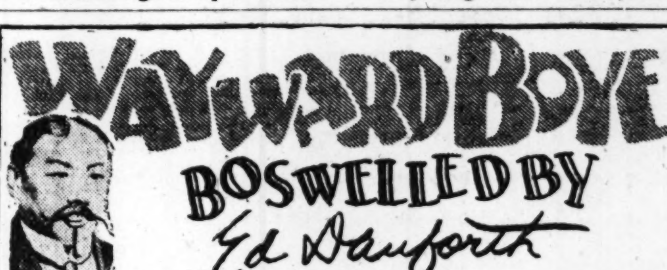

Other bouts on the national schedule for the week include: Tomorrow night, at New York, Broadway arena, Pete Santol, Norway, vs. Sammy Farber, New York, bantamweights, ten rounds; at Philadelphia, Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle negro, vs. Buckey Boyle, Allentown, Pa., lightweights; at Memphis, Tenn., Johnny Groves, New York, welterweights; at New Orleans, Eddie Kid Wolfe, Memphis, vs. Johnny Dundee, New York, lightweights; at Cleveland, Stanislaus Loayza, Chile, vs. Frankie Chatterton, Cleveland, lightweights, 12 rounds; Johnny Groves, New York, vs. Rosy Rosales, Mexico, heavyweights, eight rounds.

Tuesday—At Chicago, Clyde Chasman, Texas, vs. Bobby Tracey, Buffalo, welterweights, 10 rounds.

Thursday—At Cincinnati, Jimmy Haney, Chicago, vs. Joe Anderson, Chicago, Jr., middleweights, 10 rounds.

Friday—At Boston, Bob Franklin, N. H., vs. Larry Rawson, Boston, heavyweights, ten rounds; at New York, Madison Square Garden, Joey Lagree, vs. Izzy Grove, welterweights, ten rounds; Earl Masro, Chicago, vs. Terry Roth, New York, featherweights, ten rounds.

EDITOR'S NOTE—Wayward Boye grew up with the Metropolitan. His earliest recollections are of the man that came to the door every week to collect for the insurance. All his life Wayward has heard nothing but "Metropolitan," "Metropolitan"—even the calendars announced it. So when The Constitution sought an opera critic to prepare synopses of the week's presentations to whom else should they have turned? Exactly. Below is Wayward's pre-view of the first opera, "La Rondine," which will be given tonight.

LA RONDINE. ("Two to a Half-Pint") is a lyrical version of the life of Babe McManaway, the queen of the night club hostesses. It was taken from the talking picture, "Staggering Love" (Warner Bros.), in which Richard Barthelmess and Alice White were starred.

Madge, a girl who just never could spill, had given up her position in the office of the wholesale grocery company, sometimes before the curtain rises. As a matter of fact she had "re-signed" just before the Stripling-Sharkey fight and now she and her uncle are back home in the little love nest giving a party.

Uncle has on a paper hat; he is a scream. Madge is telling her girl friend all about him over in a corner. In a beautiful duet, "E Snore," Madge (soprano) tells everything that happened in Miami and Lizzie yes-her (contralto). Ruggles arrives from Red Gap, takes off his coat, puts on Madge's hat and in no time is the life of the party. Uncle passes out on the love seat.

THE ELOPEMENT. The second act takes place at a barbecue stand near the Chattahoochee whither the party has adjourned. Uncle drives up later just as the crowd is finishing and demands to know where Madge is at. A search reveals Madge and Ruggles having slipped away and when last seen were driving across the bridge toward Smyrna.

NONE KILLED. The last act is a novelty in grand opera. Madge and Ruggles had taken the Williams place for the summer. They are happy except for the flies. However, they are going to have screens put in just as soon as the money comes in for the cotton crop. Madge is getting restless when a telegram arrives announcing that Ruggles' mother is coming for a visit. As the curtain falls Madge is seen rushing out to get the 5:40 car for town.

No one is killed. The marriage was to have taken place in the fall as soon as the roads got better, but it was just as well after all.

Hold 3 Titles. Max Schmeling was light heavyweight champion of Germany, light heavyweight champion of Europe, and then heavyweight champion of Europe, before coming to America.

Barons Attract Fans Counting in exhibition games and semi-pro games, 700,000 fans have passed through the gates at Birmingham in the last two years.

Black Crackers Swamp Blackjacks Tampa, Fla., April 21.—In a wild hitting game, the Atlanta Black Crackers won their third straight game when they defeated the Mulberry Blackjacks here this afternoon, 14-5.

Williams and Cornelius hit home runs to add to the visitors' total. Williams' smash came in the sixth inning with two men on base. Cornelius hit his over the fence in the seventh with the bases loaded.

HORSE GUARDS LOSE OPENER

Fort McPherson Poloists Down Rivals in Six-Chukker Game, 4-2

By Ben Cothran.

Taking up the scrap where they left off last December, polo teams of Fort McPherson and the Governor's Horse Guards engaged in another one of their bitter, hard-fought games Sunday afternoon at the Fort in the season opener.

The game lasted only six chukkers but it was great while it lasted. It served to open the regular playing season and the Sunday afternoon games between the two Atlanta teams will be a regular thing for the rest of the spring and summer, to be broken times with the appearance of outside teams.

Bears Make Debut At Spiller's Today

Mobile's Bears will make their season's debut at Spiller field this afternoon in the Gray game of a three-game series. The game will start at 3 o'clock.

The Bears will play the Crackers here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, making up the first half of a full week of baseball in Atlanta. Following the Bears' three-day season in the Cracker park the New Orleans Pelicans will come to Atlanta Thursday for their initial performance of the season. The Vols will play the Crackers Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

This gives Atlanta fans a full week of baseball.

WOMEN PLAY FINALS TODAY

Mrs. Smith Plays Mrs. Kirkpatrick for A. W. G. A. Title.

The spring match play champion among Atlanta's women golfers will be selected today at East Lake and the prospects are bright for an extremely interesting process of selection when Mrs. A. W. G. A. Title, Mrs. H. B. Kirkpatrick meet in the finals. The tournament, which started last Tuesday has been a very delectable golf dish highly seasoned with upsets and the two first final finalists are really dark horses in the race.

Mrs. Smith, who eliminated Margaret Maddox and Rosalie Mayer, to reach the finals has been playing remarkably good golf but her opponent has not been missing many shots either. Mrs. Kirkpatrick, starting on her second round, is one of the favorites. The tournament, which started last Tuesday has been a very delectable golf dish highly seasoned with upsets and the two first final finalists are really dark horses in the race.

Playing on an even basis the greater experience of Mrs. Smith might well serve to swing the balance her way, but under the handicap system she must give her opponent five strokes and five strokes in an 18-hole match is a difficult gift.

In the second final another interesting contest is in prospect with Mrs. J. C. Wright and Mrs. Carlyle Fraser at the opposing ends. Mrs. Wright, one of Tom Wilson's Ansley Park pupils, is a rapidly improving golfer and stands a good show to beat the blonde star with the handicap she receives. Mrs. Fraser must give her opponent six strokes in their contest. She is shooting about five or six strokes better than Mrs. Wright usually, so the handicap strokes would even matters.

Mrs. F. M. Garrett has already won the trophy in the third final. She accomplished her task by beating Mrs. M. V. Larned 1-up in their 19-hole match.

To Serve as Head. There are rumors abroad that Miss Florence Killick will serve as head of the Milwaukee club only until a new owner is found.

Hornsby Takes 'Big Six' Lead; Lou Is Second

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Rogers Hornsby, batting champion of the National League, turned in the outstanding offensive performance of the young season at Wrigley field yesterday, and as a result, Lou Gehrig from the top of the Big Six column, Hornsby's spree of two doubles and two singles, in four official times, but not only helped the Cubs defeat the champion Cardinals by 4 to 0, but lifted the Rajah's personal batting figure to .588. Jim Bottomley, a Big Six rival, went hitless.

Babe Ruth and Gehrig, the only American league Big Six entries active through yesterday's rain, got one safe drive each.

The standing: G.A.B.R.P.C. Hornsby, Cubs, .412 5 7 .588; Gehrig, Yankees, .383 8 4 .500; Goslin, Senators, .410 6 6 .375; Bottomley, Cards, .516 5 5 .383; Ruth, Yankees, .393 3 2 .222; P. Waner, Pirates, .414 1 3 .214.

New Ring Features A swinging stool for the boxer between rounds, and an electric timing clock in full view of all, are features of Aaron George's new boxing arena in Baltimore.

Pelicans and Barons Set Pace During First Week of Southern

Ansley Park Wins Team Match, 4-1

Forest Hills Routed; Women's Flag Tourney Set for Tuesday; More Low Scores.

By Dick Hawkins.

Ansley Park's eight-man golf team completely routed a similar team from Forest Hills Club at Ansley Park Sunday afternoon but the invading golfers hope for revenge next week when the same matches will be played at Forest Hills.

The Ansley Park team, captained by Dr. Dan Sage, the behemoth of drives, took five points in the four-ball nassau matches and while the Forest Hills crowd failed to score a point.

H. C. Nowell and J. J. Jones, Jr., of Ansley, took two points in their match with C. W. Matthews and T. Johnson, while Howard Muse and W. D. Thompson took the same number of points from T. S. Stewart and H. E. Hayek of the invading team. Muggsy Smith and Dr. Dan captured the only point scored in their match with J. Rembert and B. Griffin, H. T. Green and C. R. Perry could not take a point, but neither did T. Adams and J. J. Byrnes of the invading team.

Next Sunday the Ansley team will pack their bags and go to Forest Hills for a similar battle, but they will not be alone. The team of 10 men will meet a like team from the Hills in what might be termed a "consolation tournament."

PATRIOTIC GOLF AGAIN.

The active organization of lady golfers at Ansley will resume their activity Tuesday with a flag tournament beginning at 9 o'clock sharp. Just in case you aren't clear on the nature of a flag tournament, let me explain. Each player adds her handicap strokes to the ladies' par which is 78 at Ansley and plays that number of strokes before she quits. When the strokes are exhausted she plants a little flag where the ball stopped on the last shot. The flag in front wins the tournament, and that's all there is to it.

The committee in charge has asked that any players not having a partner to play with be assigned upon arrival. Mrs. C. E. Williamson, who figures the handicaps for Ansley ladies, also requests that the fair golfers turn in more if not better scores for handicaps.

LUCK AND SKILL.

The boys in the locker room at Capital City Club are having much joy at the expense of George Grant just because George happened to win the blind handicap tournament held there on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Victory is usually the occasion of congratulation rather than mirth, but when it is known that George, as chairman of the tournament committee, drew the number 73 from the hat after the scores were all in and drew his own number, it can be easily understood why the boys are kidding him just a bit.

But George has the last laugh. He did draw his own number, but he has the prize and the others haven't, so he can afford to laugh louder and funnier than the rest. George shot an 88 and showed his handicap in his total was exactly on the drawn number.

The golf balls given to second place were split between three players who guessed their handicap within one stroke of the right figure. John Grant, Jr., knowing that the drawn figure must be between 70 and 80, accepted no handicap and shot a gross 74 to come within one stroke of the goal. E. H. Ginn also had a net 74 after his 20-stroke handicap was deducted. Morgan Wynn selected 13 strokes as his handicap and ended an 85 to go one point under the right spot.

Forty-five players participated so that number of golf balls will be divided among the winners.

MORE ARGUMENT.

If low handicap scores continue to roll in at the Capital City Club there will be a lot of arguing at the first tie in future heavy matches. The list Sunday showed another lot of good scores for the handicap committee to peruse.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT.

A new kind of a farewell party will be held at the Capital City Club Tuesday when the southern Ford dealers stage a golf tourney in honor of L. B. Grove, district manager for Ford in this section.

The tourney will be an 18-hole medal play affair, and it is expected that at least half a hundred Ford men from the southern division will enter.

THAT "4" RUINED IT.

A gentleman named Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., carried a snipe 65 at East Lake Sunday with a 4 on 18. Some of these days Robert may admit he has hit one.

Goodrich, Avera Fight April 30

Renewal of the rivalry between Larry Avera, the blond veteran and Ted Goodrich, newcomer to Atlanta tistic favoritism, will be made April 30, according to plans launched yesterday by Max Abelson, promoter.

Abelson has matched these two welterweights in a ten-round match as the principal number on a boxing card in the city auditorium.

Avera and Goodrich fought a slash-fight ten-round to recently and the latter was given the decision. Fans raised an uproar.

They contended that Avera should have had no worse than a draw. Many believed Avera, was entitled to a shade.

Plenty of Material

Spike Webb has plenty of heavy-weight material in the navy. In meets this year Chapline, Moret and Swan all have won bouts in that class.

PAICENES NEW STAR OF TURF

Kentucky Racing Men Predict Great Year for Colt.

By French Lane.

Even the prudent men of Kentucky who have rolled up fortunes in the production of race horses of unblemished blood lines are quick to forget the staid old champions and rush to a new hero.

There is a fine example of this in Kentucky this spring. The new hero is Paicenes, an imported son of Sun Star-Dreamy II, which stands in the stud at Scotland farm on the fringe of Frankfort, Kentucky's capital.

Paicenes has been sending winners to racers for a good many seasons. His sons and daughters have been winning most from the time he landed in the United States. But when Ervost, a three-year-old offspring, galloped to eight straight victories at Tia Juana last winter Paicenes became as famous as Ervost. He was a greater hero among the breeding men of Kentucky.

Anxious to produce another Ervost, or a colt or filly of his speed, they have taken their choicest brood mares to the court of Paicenes. Three years hence the result of these unions will begin to appear on the race courses of the country. Then the veteran breeding men will know whether they have used good judgment in rushing to this new hero.

It may be that Paicenes arrived as one of the great stars of America even before Ervost started his brilliant winning streak. Some of the best looking yearlings and a few of the speediest two-year-olds to be found in Kentucky this spring are sons and daughters of Paicenes.

Since Ervost came along to make Paicenes famous, such noted horses as John E. Madden, Edward R. Bradley, Jack Keene, Colonel Phil T. Chinn, Stuyvesant Peabody, Polk Lafayette and others have sent their mares to Scotland farm to be mated with Paicenes.

Aside from Ervost, the rest of Oglethorpe's track artists are somewhat untired. Their showing in the daily rehearsals, however, has been rather encouraging and with zest that active competition players should assist Eubanks in his task of placing the Petrels up among the leaders.

The other schools have entries that are not to be overlooked, however, and indications point to keen competition in all events. There are new contestants entered who give indications of making things hot for the more well-known trackmen and the former highlights will have to step about to maintain their standing.

LIST OF OFFICIALS: H. G. Voorhis, of A. G. Spalding, chief judge, and J. G. Lester, of Emory, chief finish judge. They will have an able corps of assistants to help them, and the meet should run off according to schedule.

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded the winners of first, second and third place, and the team scoring the most points will get to keep the silver statuette of Loren Murchison on the mark for one year. This trophy may be kept permanent by any school winning it three times.

There will be no charge for admission to the meet, and the public is invited. The entire expense of the meet is being met by the students of Emory university through their athletic association.

THE ENTRIES: 100-Yard Dash—Coffee, Witmer, Hicks (T.); Vogel, Jalouk (E.); Snooks, Woodrow (O.); McCarty, Tillman, Waugh, Dickens (G.).

220-Yard Dash—Coffee, Witmer, Hicks (T.); Vogel, Jalouk (E.); Therrell, Snooks (O.); McCarty, Tillman (G.).

Bulldogs Send Strong Team. Athens, Ga., April 21.—Following a week's training since the Tech relays, the University of Georgia track team, undefeated in a dual meet, will send a strong squad to the Georgia state meet at Emory University Monday afternoon.

Furman and Presbyterian have bowed to Coach H. J. Stegeman's track and field men in meets which were won in decisive fashion.

Georgia seems to have its best clipper team since 1926 when the Bulldogs won the only dual meet of recent years from Georgia Tech. Centered around Captain Herdis McCarty, Bob Young, Dick Anderson, Pete Kenner and Sanford, all consistent first placers, are several other men who have regularly turned in their share of seconds and thirds as well as some firsts.

With the best chance in several years for a victory, the Bulldogs enter here early Monday morning and

Penn Relays Slated Friday and Saturday

3,300 Athletes Representing 550 Institutions To Compete in Annual Carnival.

Philadelphia, April 21.—(AP)—More than 3,300 athletes representing over 550 colleges and schools are entered in the track and field events of the thirty-fifth annual University of Pennsylvania relay carnival next Friday and Saturday.

The entry list exceeds that of any previous year, both in number of individuals and in colleges and schools.

Teams from every section with the exception of the Pacific coast, and including performers from Canada and Honolulu, are represented in the 103 events on the program.

Paavo Nurmi, the Finnish star, and the schoolboys of the tender age of a dozen years, will share the spotlight in the running races.

Nurmi will attempt to break the American and world's records in the two-mile run on Friday and the three-mile run on Saturday.

He will be opposed on Friday by St. Clair Davidson, Canadian star, and a number of club stars and on Saturday by Ben Merembeck, Pennsylvania's best distance runner, and others.

A special mile race in which Orville Martin, of Purdue, outdoor mile champion of the western conference, Jesse Montgomery, and Roland Ritchie, of Pennsylvania, are listed to run and in which a foreign star also is expected to run is another feature race.

Eleven of the best all-around track men in the colleges will compete in the decathlon championships which will be held on Friday this year instead of on both Friday and Saturday.

Ohio State, Chicago, Indiana and Wisconsin from the Big Ten are expected to figure conspicuously in the championship relay events. Chicago will attempt to win four first places with a busy week.

The Jackets took a 6-0 verdict from the Tigers of Auburn at East Lake Saturday, and seem to be at the top of their form at the present. By this token they should have little trouble in coming through the two meets well.

Tech Netmen Play Tarheels. With the Emory State meet and a match with the Tarheels of the University of North Carolina, at Chapel Hill, on their schedule for the coming week, Georgia Tech's netmen are faced with a busy week.

Tennis stars of Darlington High of Rome, Ga., will play the Atlanta University School this afternoon on the Piedmont Park courts. The first match will start at 2 o'clock. Jimmy Halverstadt, of Darlington, will oppose Bill Reese, number one of U. S. B. in the opening matches.

There will be four singles and two doubles matches played.

Motorcycle Race To Be Held Here. Motorcycle races sanctioned by the Southern Racing Association will feature the speed program at Lakewood Park opening day. This announcement came yesterday from Weyman Boyles, Atlanta promoter of dirt track motorcycle racing.

An agreement has been reached between the Southeastern Fair management and Boyles to stage these races on opening day. Boyles promises that the leading and most daring riders in the southeast will be here to compete.

Work will start today on the track to whip it into shape for racing. Opening day will be either May 4 or May 11; definite announcement will be made later.

those he liked but he didn't like many. A marriage had a softening influence on him. His wife was a little girl from East St. Louis. She used to sit up in the stands and watched the Buster play ball. He wasn't nearly so hard with the umpires after he married. Once he told Steamboat Johnson, "If it wasn't for that little lady up in the stands I'd bust you one."

SETTING THE STYLE. The Buster always wore a cap. He hit a sign one day at St. Louis and the prize for hitting it was a hat or cap. The Buster went into the store with his wife. They had just four caps in his size.

"How do you like this one?" asked the Buster as he tried one out. "I don't like it," said his wife. "How about this one?" "I don't like it either."

"Well, how about this one?" "Stand over there and let me see. No, I don't like it."

The Buster took the fourth one and pulled it down about his ears. "Listen," he said, "you like this one. Get me."

"I think it looks real nice," she said. MANAGERS RELIEVED. When the Buster was waved out all the managers breathed a sigh of relief. Their base runners never protested on a close one at first base.

To Buster he said, "He was out, see?" and that settled it. They were afraid of him when he came around poking his head in the dugouts, hoping no one would like it.

He went up to Hopkinsville in the Kitty league for a while but he soon went back to East St. Louis. It was there that the report came back saying he was in the cooler after a gang war. And he wrote to Nashville club for used baseballs. He is playing first base for the prison nine, so he says.

The Buster was a truculent sort of fellow but not bad hearted, really. He was just born in the wrong era. He'd have gone over big as one of Francois Villon's henchmen, for instance. I was sorry when the Buster left. He was good copy.

TIDEMEN PLAY JACKETS HERE

Alabama Invades Flats for Games Wednesday and Thursday.

By Herb Clark.

Having boosted their standing in the conference to the .500 mark by taking both games of the series with the Tigers of Auburn at the Flats last Friday and Saturday, with four victories in eight games, Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets will get down to serious work the first two days of the week to get ready for their four-game fracas with the Crimson Tide ball team from Alabama.

The Tidemen will play at the Flats on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and after the second game the two clubs will entrain for Tuscaloosa to play two games on the Crimson field Friday and Saturday.

Tech's chances of going far in the conference race this year were brightened considerably by the showings of the Jackets in the two frays with the Tigers here. The pitching was at its highest mark for the season.

Shifting Aubrey Hobbs to third base has brightened the work of the Jacket infield considerably. He is a steady and cool player who is not apt to lose his head in the stress of an emergency. He did some effective hitting in Friday's game, getting three hits in five trips to the plate, driving in three Tech runs and scoring two himself. He went hitless in Saturday's game, but got one sacrifice hit.

"Murderer's Row" is beginning to come to the fore to aid the offensive work of the Jackets. Twenty-four hits were bunched off the slants of five Tiger tossers, and they were coming when runners were on base.

The conquest of the Tidemen will be no easy matter, from all reports.

Slates Kept Clean By Leading Clubs

Crackers and Chicks Tied for Second Honors During Week; Spinners Lead Sally.

The first week of play in the Southern association ended with two teams—New Orleans and Birmingham—tied for the lead with perfect records of four victories and no defeats each.

Memphis and Atlanta, the other pre-season favorites, are tied for second place with four wins and one loss apiece, Chattanooga winning a decision over the Crackers, while Memphis was dropping one to Little Rock.

The other four teams did not show so impressively. Chattanooga and Little Rock each have one victory against four defeats, but neither Nashville nor Mobile was able to break into the win column and their record so far is listed entirely on the red side of the ledger.

BEARS COME HERE.

The first three days of this week find Mobile invading Atlanta, while New Orleans goes to Birmingham, Little Rock to Chattanooga and Memphis to Nashville.

The series between the Barons and the Pelicans promises plenty of hard fought action. Both teams showed plenty of stuff during the first week and they will be fighting to retain the lead.

New series will start on Thursday with New Orleans moving up to Atlanta, Mobile going to Birmingham, Memphis to Chattanooga, and Little Rock to Nashville.

SALLY LEAGUE.

In the South Atlantic association a pretty race is developing, with Frank Walker's Greenville Spinners out in front by a margin of half a game over Augusta, which is fighting to stay in second place.

The Spinners won five and lost two for the week. Augusta's record was four won and two lost, while Knoxville and Asheville are in a tie for third place with four wins and three losses each.

The schedule for the first half of the week sends Knoxville to Macon, Asheville to Augusta, Columbia to Greenville and Charlotte to Spartanburg, and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Charlotte entertains Greenville, Spartanburg goes to Columbia, Augusta to Knoxville, and Macon to Asheville.

End of the first week in the Southeastern. End of the first week in the Southeastern finds Selma and Montgomery leading the pack. Each has won three and lost one game. Jacksonville played .500 baseball and won and lost three each. Tampa, Columbus and Pensacola trail in order.

Tampa opens this week in Montgomery, with Columbus at Pensacola and Jacksonville at Selma. The last half sends Jacksonville to Montgomery, Columbus to Selma, and Tampa to Pensacola.

Number of games won and lost. Runs, hits, opponents' runs and home runs of each club in the Southern association follow:

LUTHERANS' MISSION BOARD IN SESSION

Divisional Meetings Held in Annual Parley of American Body.

Columbia, S. C., April 20.—(AP)—Divisional meetings occupied members of the American missions board of the United States Lutheran Church in America, now in annual session here. During the morning members of the board visited the Lutheran theological seminary and several made brief addresses to the students of the institution.

The committee on English missions, Dr. J. W. Seegers, of Philadelphia, chairman, had under discussion a program to strengthen the church in the larger cities of the country. The committee has control of the expenditure of approximately $20,000 a month for English mission work in America. Discussions of the linguist committee were led by Dr. F. O. Evers, pastor of the largest German church in America, at Baltimore. Steps were taken to secure a successor to the Rev. A. L. Rainer, D. D., in charge of the foreign language missions, who was killed during the last year in an automobile accident.

The division of Latin-American missions reported on relief extended in the West Indies to victims of the hurricane of last September. Dr. C. A. Freund, former Columbia pastor, presided over the meeting.

Dr. Henry F. Hoyer presided over the church extension division and reviewed the $1,250,000 loans which have been extended to mission churches. In view of possible returns the committee voted the expenditure of an additional $250,000 for the erection of mission churches during the ensuing year.

Board members and their guests tonight attended a banquet at the Jefferson hotel at which prominent Lutherans and several local pastors were scheduled to speak.

HOOVER TO SPEAK TO A. P. MEETING IN GOTHAM TODAY

New York, April 21.—(AP)—Newspaper publishers from all sections of the United States began arriving here today for the annual meetings of the Associated Press and the American Newspaper Publishers' Association at the Waldorf Astoria hotel, next week.

The Associated Press will convene its 29th annual meeting tomorrow forenoon and President Hoover will address the members at the luncheon, which starts at 1 p. m. The president will be introduced by Frank B. Noyes, of the Washington Star, president of the Associated Press. The luncheon speeches will be broadcast over the nation-wide hook-ups of the National Broadcasting Company and the Columbia Broadcasting system. Mr. Hoover's speech will be broadcast by WSB in Atlanta.

It will be the last time these newspaper conventions will be held at the Waldorf, for the historic hostelry will be torn down, commencing May 1, to make way for an office skyscraper. The Associated Press has held its annual meetings at the hotel since 1902, and the A. N. P. A. also has met there for many years.

PASTOR ROPES OFF BACK PEWS; FILLS UP FRONT SEATS

Deatur, Ill., April 21.—(United News).—When the Rev. Allen L. Eddy, pastor of the Congregational church here, delivers a sermon, he likes to have his listeners well down in front.

For some time members of his flock avoided the front pews, sitting in the rear of the church. After watching the procedure for several Sundays, Eddy procured a large rope and roped off the back pews.

The idea helped matters along a great deal, the minister admitted.

British Sailors To Honor Confederates at Savannah

WARSHIP'S FORCE TO MARCH IN PARADE

Savannah, Ga., April 21.—(AP)—British seaman composing a detachment from the British warship Heliotrope, now in Savannah harbor, will be in the line of march Friday of the Confederate Memorial Day parade, the first time that a foreign contingent will have paraded on such an occasion.

The circumstance recalls the first time that United States regulars paraded in a Confederate Memorial Day celebration in this country. On April 28, 1895, two companies of the second United States infantry, companies K and L, commanded by Lieutenant John L. Hines, were in the line of march and fired three volleys over the graves of the Confederate dead. It was described at the time as a "spectacle unparalleled in the history of the country." Lieutenant Hines later became chief of staff of the United States army, succeeding General John J. Pershing, and was commanding officer of the third army corps of the A. E. F. He is now commander of the Ninth Corps area. General Hines on a visit to Savannah several years ago recalled with pleasure, he then stated, that he should have commanded the regular army troops who first joined in the celebration of memorializing the Confederate dead.

On numerous occasions the eighth United States infantry, stationed at Fort Screven, Tybee Island, Ga., has paraded, the whole of the first battalion led by the eighth infantry band being an important part of the parade whenever it is held here.

This year, in addition to the United States troops and the British seamen, the military participating will be the 118th field artillery, national guard of Georgia, Colonel J. H. Thompson commanding; the Georgia Hussars, troop A, Georgia cavalry, Captain A. L. Henderson, commanding, and the battalion of Benedictine cadets, All veteran organizations, including Confederate veterans, sons of veterans, Spanish-American War veterans and World War veterans will parade. The auxiliary organizations and Boy and Girl Scouts will also be in the line of march.

ROOSEVELT LEAVES FOR WARM SPRINGS TO TAKE A REST

New York, April 21.—(AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt left here at 3:40 p. m. today aboard the Washington Southern Express, of the Pennsylvania railway, for Warm Springs, Ga., for a visit of several weeks.

Governor Roosevelt said he was going "merely for rest" and planned to return late in June or early July. Accompanying him were his law partner, A. Basil O'Connor, and Mrs. O'Connor; the governor's secretary and his bodyguard.

STATESBORO VETS TO GET OLD FLAG CARRIED IN WAR

Statesboro, Ga., April 21.—(Special).—Ladies of the local chapter of U. D. C. are busy making preparations for the exercises here on the 25th. It will be one of the most interesting programs this city and county have witnessed in many years in honor of the Confederacy. The Sons of Veterans will join the Daughters as hosts at a dinner to follow the exercises. An interesting feature of the exercises will be the return of the flag originally belonging to the Bulloch county troops and carried away with them when they went into service in 1861. The flag was made by Miss Lane and presented to the local organization. It fell into the hands of Union soldiers and was recently discovered in Americus, Ga., and will be restored to the owners.

Frank M. Oliver, Savannah, will be the orator of the day, and a most delightful feature will be the singing of Signore Pietro Gladiatore Gentile, of Screven county.

Belles To Attend Puccini's "La Rondine"

"La Rondine"

Opera Sung in Italian Is First in 1929 Repertoire

Puccini's "La Rondine," sung in Italian by the Metropolitan Opera Company this evening at the auditorium, presents the first opera of a repertoire consisting of seven popular operas selected for the 1929 season, and will be sung by such artists as Lucrezia Bori, Editha Fleischer, Beniamino Gigli, Armand Tokatyan, Pavel Ludikar, Millo Picco, Giordano Paltrinieri, Louis D'Angelo, Charlotte Ryan, Philine Falco and Dorothea Flexer, while Vincenzo Bellezza will conduct. The tuneful melody that a Puccini opera always assures an audience will assemble fashionable Atlantans and visitors from far and near, to hear the golden-voiced songbirds, and the scenic investments will rank with the metropolitan presentations. Its exquisite settings will charm the eye with an entrancing picture of famous El Bullier in Paris, and a picturesque villa on the Mediterranean Riviera, while the haunting waltz runs throughout the entire score. Beautifully gowned women will sweep majestically down the auditorium aisle clad in trailing chiffons, wearing velvet, taffeta and brocade wraps and during the intermissions and these gorgeous creations will spread their

Miss Rosalind Kress To Be Honored.

Miss Rosalind Kress, of New York city, one of the most charming visiting belles attending grand opera as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph N. Moody, at the Georgian Terrace, will be honor guest at a tea-dance party at the Biltmore Tuesday afternoon, at which Mrs. Moody will be hostess. Invited to meet Miss Kress will be a group of the younger set of society.

Mr. and Mrs. Bray Entertain at Tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims Bray were hosts at a tea yesterday afternoon at their home on Juniper street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. McGehee.

Music for all the operas will be presented by Mrs. Charles Chalmers, concert pianist.

BRILLIANT BREAKFAST TAKES PLACE AT WOMAN'S CLUB TODAY

Interest Centers Around Party Honoring Grand Opera Stars

Interest centers around the brilliant opera breakfast which will take place at the Atlanta Woman's Club today at 12 o'clock, to which the officers of the Atlanta Music Festival Association, with Edward Ziegler and G. A. Baldini, of Atlanta, and 45 stars of the Metropolitan Opera Company are especially invited guests. The banquet hall will be attractively decorated with spring flowers and stately palms will be placed at intervals about the room. Trailing pink roses will adorn the table and song birds and music notes will be ingeniously introduced into the decorations as a special feature.

Mrs. Earl Scott will assist the regular decorating committee, Mrs. Fred C. Rice, Mrs. T. C. Harris and Mrs. W. P. Dunn, on this festive occasion. Mrs. John R. Hornady, president, will preside and introduce the distinguished guests, assisted by the officers of the club, and Mrs. Harry G. Poole and Mrs. D. R. Wilder will direct the automobile service.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, chairman of music, has arranged an attractive musical program and announces that Dr. M. H. Dewey and Virgil Eady will direct the Emory Glee Club orchestra, which will be heard at this time in a number of beautiful selections.

Receiving with the president will be the members of the hospitality committee, Mrs. L. G. Hardman, Mrs. M. L. Throver, Mrs. C. K. Ayer, Mrs. William Larned, Mrs. George L. ## La Rondine

"La Rondine," one of Giacomo Puccini's lightest and most beautiful operas, is new to Atlanta. In fact, it is new to New York, having been given there this season for the first time. Yet it proved so popular that critics are already classing it as a second "La Boheme." It is in three acts and is featured by a haunting waltz theme melody.

MEMORABILIA

If there was only some spoken dialogue in "La Rondine," it would almost come under the classification of light opera—or even musical comedy—instead of "grand" opera. However, there is no dialogue except that which is heard in the recitatives and therefore it is, technically, at least, in the "grand" category.

That it is destined to be one of the most popular operas of all time, either because of, or despite, this lightness, is already assured by the tremendous success it has achieved in New York and the European opera centers. New York critics have said repeatedly that it would fill the Metropolitan opera house eight performances a week all summer, simply as a contribution to Gotham's summer entertainment.

Puccini wrote the opera during and just after the World War. He first wrote a waltz, to be used as a recurring theme—just as the waltz songs are used in "Merry Widow," "Chocolate Soldier," and other light musical favorites.

It was produced first in 1917 at Monte Carlo and there is a rather involved story about the confusion as to lyric rights, because of the mix-up of national confiscations during the war.

Its first American presentation was at the Metropolitan in March, 1928, with almost the same cast as that which sings it in Atlanta—including Bori, Gigli, Tokaty, etc.

Its story runs thus:

The Story

ACT I.
Magda, a Parisian lady of lovely charm but easy moral status and habits, is the central figure. It is her pet name among the young-bloods of Paris which gives the opera its name, "La Rondine" (The Swallow). In Act I she is holding a reception in her salon, at which the leading figures of the time (it is set in the Second Empire period in France) in art, music and literature are guests. Her gentleman friend of the moment is Rambaldo, an exceedingly rich individual, and his generosity enables her to live in sumptuous style. Prunier, a poet, is present and he declares

In conversation that romance is rampant in Paris, that sentimentality is again fashionable. Lizette, the maid, interrupts him with the first of numerous comments, in satirical aldo, Magda's lover. The young man is looking for urban excitement and Lizette tells him to go to the Bal Bullier. Magda is reminded of memories of her earliest love at the name and sings a lovely song descriptive of this, the one pure passion of her career.

Ruggero leaves for the Bal Bullier.

Lizette dresses herself in some of Magda's finery and also leaves in company with Prunier. These two are evidently lovers. Magda, alone, mourns over her lost past and, to stir herself out of ennui, dresses as a girl of the streets and also starts for the famous Bal Bullier.

ACT II.

The scene is the Bal Bullier cabaret. It is here that Atlanta is afforded the unique experience of seeing all the famous stars of the Metropolitan on the stage together, as those not in the cast for Monday night have agreed to act as the guests, waiters, flower girls, etc., at the cabaret. The theme song waltz is heard as the curtain rises.

Magda, disguised in her street girl attire, meets Ruggero and the two are instantly mutually attracted. Ruggero thinks she is far younger than she really is and knows nothing of her notoriety. He makes love to her. She, dreaming of that earlier episode in her career, responds. Prunier and Lizette enter, another lovesick couple, and join the dancers.

Magda tells Ruggero

she is "Paulette." Rambaldo, who has watched, calls on Magda to go home, but she answers by saying she loves Ruggero. The two lovers are alone in each others arms as day breaks.

ACT III.

Magda and Ruggero are living an idyllic life in a cottage by the sea. Ruggero, in his innocent faith in his sweetheart, has written his father asking consent for his marriage to Magda. As the boy tells Magda how his mother will welcome her as a daughter, she weeps as she realizes she must tell the truth about herself and her career and that she has no right to marry him.

Prunier and Lizette arrive from Nice, where Lizette has failed miserably in her debut as an actress, a step taken at Prunier's insistence. Now she wants her job as a maid back.

The letter from Ruggero's mother arrives, with a glad welcome for her son's bride. The lovers read it together.

Then Magda makes her hard decision, duty triumphing over love. She tells Ruggero all her past and that she is unworthy to be his wife. Despite his pleading, she leaves with Lizette.

Social Calendar for Opera Week

Puccini's "La Rondine" will be sung in Italian by the Metropolitan Opera Company this evening at 8 o'clock at the Auditorium with Lucrezia Bori, Editha Fleischer, Beniamino Gigli, Armand Tokaty, Pavel Ludikar, Millo Picco, Giordano Paltrinieri, Louis D'Angelo, Charlotte Ryan, Philine Falco and Dorothea Flexer in the cast, and the opera will be conducted by Vincenzo Bellezza.

The supper-dance at the Capital City Club following the opera inaugurates the gay social program attendant upon opera, and will be given in compliment to the artists of the Metropolitan Opera Company, past presidents of the club and officers of the Atlanta Music Festival Association by the board of governors of the Capital City Club.

The Atlanta Woman's Club, of which Mrs. John R. Hornady is president, entertains the Metropolitan Opera Company and the directors of the Atlanta Music Festival Association at a breakfast at 12 o'clock at the clubhouse on Peachtree street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Swann Floyd will be hosts at a buffet luncheon at their home on The Prado in Ansley Park, honoring their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swann, of Tampa, Fla., who will visit Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Rawson during opera week.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Perry entertain at the supper-dance at the Capital City Club, honoring their guest, Mrs. R. B. Crabbs, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The right front and right back portions lap over the left portions. The girdle holds the back portions and confines the fulness of the fronts. Rayon, dimity and batiste are also suggested for this style.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: Small, 34-36; medium, 38-40; large, 42-44; extra large, 46-48 inches bust measure. To make the garment for a medium size will require 2 1/4 yards of 39-inch material. For shoulder straps and string girdle of ribbon 2 3/4 yards will be required. The vestee of lace or contrasting material requires 1 1/4 yard 18 inches wide. Pattern mailed on any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our up-to-date spring and summer 1929 book of fashions.

Address orders to Beauty Fashion Dept., care The Constitution, Atlanta, Georgia.

DOES RED HAIR MEAN MORE ARDOR?

Almost every one has a very definite opinion concerning red hair. They either like it immensely or do not like it at all, but the fact remains that down through the ages women with red hair have been looked upon as especially fascinating. Helen of Troy, they say, had red hair and some people think that Cleopatra did also. There is nothing to prove that she did—only that, as some people think, she must have had that sort of hair to have exerted such a fascination over the men she came in contact with.

And because of this admiration for red hair there has, for centuries, been the temptation to dye hair of a less brilliant hue to a reddish tone. Titian hair wasn't naturally Auburn or red at all. It was black hair dyed red. The dark-haired Italian ladies of

An opera lecture by Miss Dora Hood Jackson, of Miami Beach, Fla., will be given at 11 o'clock at the Biltmore hotel.

Mrs. J. P. B. Allen entertains this afternoon at her home on Peachtree street, honoring her guest, Mrs. Graham Hall, of Nashville, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph MacPherson, of Nashville.

Mrs. Owen Perry entertains at an informal tea at her home, honoring her guest, Mrs. R. B. Crabbs, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. H. C. Bagley entertains at the opera breakfast at the Atlanta Woman's Club, honoring Mrs. R. B. Crabbs, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. C. D. Chambers will give a bridge-luncheon at her home on Huntington road in Brookwood Hills, honoring Mrs. Ira Groves.

There will be an opera supper-dance at the Biltmore hotel following the presentation of "La Rondine" by the Metropolitan Opera Company at the Auditorium.

THE MEDBURY FORT MURDER

INSTALLMENT XLIII.

LIGHTNING.

Mallinson felt the girl's body stiffen, then relax and nod more closely into his arms. "I'm a detective," he continued, "don't be afraid. Tell me everything, and I'll see no harm comes to you."

"O! I've done nothing wrong. Only I've been silly, perhaps," the girl whispered. "I've been frightened, imagining things." She withdrew softly from his embrace and, putting her arm through his with a gesture of confidence, she continued: "You're all right, I can tell. I can trust you. More than I could Mason or—Mr. Lepean."

Mallinson pressed her little hand that lay along his arm. "Tell me all about it, my dear. First, what's your name?"

"Emily Baxter, and I live at Hemet, you know, about half a mile round the bend of the river—17 High street, a draper's shop. Well," she went on with a demure inflection in her voice, "I'm a 'one' for the boys, but no harm, you know, and I met Mason out here a few weeks ago. He is rather common, I know, not my class, really, but—he was the first soldier boy I'd ever had."

"I see. Are you fond of him?" Mallinson asked with what he felt was a ridiculous spurt of jealousy. She glanced up at him with a shade of mischief in her intelligent dark eyes.

"No—no, of course, I pretended to be a bit, you know. He got very 'spoony' on me and tried to—paw me about," she said, fastidiously, "I stopped that pretty quick. Well, last Saturday night I met Mr. Lepean at the Regent Dance hall in Bitterne. I was introduced, you know, and he was very friendly. My girl friend, Sally Peterson, introduced me. I didn't like him much, poor man—I shouldn't have said that, but it's a fact. I didn't, too bold, he was, and sneering. When he told me he was in the Mercias at the fort, I asked him if he knew Mason, and he told me Mason was a butcher by trade."

"Just to put you off and to be spiteful, I suppose?"

"I dare say. Anyway, I'm not a snob and it was nothing to me, but on Sunday evening when I was out with Mason—walking along here, it was—he began to get fresh and I got angry and started laughing at him and cutting him, and at last—though I am ashamed to think I committed such a mean thing—I taunted him with being a butcher."

"What happened then?"

"He went on something dreadful! I couldn't believe it! The things he said and the names he called me! He went on saying what he said, and Mr. Lepean and what he'd do to him, I got in a real old funk, but I couldn't get away 'cos he held me by the arm. Look! A slight rounded arm was thrust out for his inspection. Above the elbow was a large circular bruise."

"Brute!" Mallinson murmured. He felt impelled to bend his head and gently press his lips against the soft flesh.

She laughed half shyly and then continued hurriedly: "I did get away at last—or rather he suddenly dropped my arm—and went off, still swearing horribly."

"I see," Mallinson said, thoughtfully, "then on Wednesday morning, I suppose, or earlier, you read of Lepean's murder in the newspapers?"

"Yes, I didn't see it till Wednesday."

"And then?" the other queried, "how was it you saw Mason tonight and what occurred?"

"I was worried, you see, and I came over specially to see him. When he came I asked him straight out, 'What about it?' you know. He was quite cool and easy. 'O! he said, 'You silly little thing. Think I did him in, do you? Ain't you read the papers?' Yes," I said, "and of course, I see it couldn't be 'em. Well, then, he said, 'what's the matter?' He said, 'a word beginning with 'L'—Lepean do the dirty on you. I was that angry at that I turned and walked off, and—that's all."

Their slow steps had carried them to the point where the towpath takes a sharp bend to the left. The towpath is the shortest route to the riverside suburb of Hemet, not half a mile distant. The road thither here branches to the right away from the river and makes a long detour through Bitterne.

"You are going straight home along the towpath?" I should like to go with you, but I can't. What you've told me is most interesting. He smiled: "You've come 'clean,' as the Americans say, haven't you? Of course you have." He squeezed her arm affectionately. "I've got your address, haven't I? That's right. I shan't forget you. Good night, little girl."

A wavering flash of lightning flickered across the sky lighting the faces tilted towards his with an unearthly pallor. For a moment he was startled; the storm had crept upon them unawares. With a pang of pity at her naïve gesture and the quality of essential innocence he divined in her, he bent and lightly brushed his lips against her fragrant lips. There was a huskiness in his voice as he murmured in her ear: "Good night, darling little girl. In another moment he was striding back towards the fort, leaning against the strong, cold wind which was the forerunner of the storm. He turned once to wave and shout: "Run along, quick, or you'll get a ducking!"

She waved back daringly, blew a kiss. She saw him for the last time, head down against the wind, silhouetted by another brilliant stab of greeny blue flame. It had started to rain. Big warm drops hit the soil with a perceptible impact. A dazzling streak of fire seemed to strike the towpath 50 yards ahead. Half blind, she turned, while the crash of thunder smote her ears.

Suddenly the inky blackness was transformed as if by the illumination of a million magnesium flares hung in the sky; the fort, the reach of river, the whole landscape appeared carved in stone. In that moment when every leaf and tree and blade of grass seemed to leap into terrifying definition, her eyes photographed the vision of two inhuman figures transfixed in awful immobility upon the river bank.

With a scream, she fled through the mud and rain, pierced intermittently with the sharp sword of the sky. An hour later she lay trembling in bed, her discarded clothes making a sodden head at its foot, listening to the steady drumming of the rain and the low rumble of the storm's recession.

And over the picture of the two figures on the river bank obtained with agonizing persistence upon her mental vision.

Before Emily Baxter found a troubled sleep that night, two miles away in the grim fort a figure, stark naked, had hidden something in his mattress—something that flashed an answering beam to the faint rays from the barracks room lamp—then crept into bed, listened, half sitting up, to the gentle snores of the two other occupants of the room. At last, satisfied, sank down and fell into a heavy slumber.

McMaster flung the last of a pile of routine papers into the wire tray on his desk and pressed the bell push which dangled by a cord from the ceiling.

"Ask Inspector Paton to come and see me, please," he directed the clerk who replied to his summons.

"Well, Paton," he cried briskly, as the detective-inspector entered the room, "I am going down to Medbury now. Like to come with me?"

"Yes, sir. With your approval, I propose to confront Major Preece with the story of his relations with Lady Roman."

"Quite. Paton, I didn't tell you that I sent Mallinson down there yesterday afternoon?" I did. "Nothing from him this morning. We will stop at Bitterne police station. They may have news of him there, but I can't help wondering why he has not reported by phone."

"A lady to see you, sir."

McMaster the chief of postboard from the constable's hand. He handed it, without comment, to his subordinate. McMaster glanced at the clock on his desk.

"Half past ten. We'd better see what she wants. Plenty of time to get down to Medbury before lunch if we start in an hour's time. Let her talk. Paton and none of your 'third degree' funny business," he warned him.

They rose as Claire Preece came into the room. She glanced defensively at the two men: "Mr. McMaster?" she inquired.

The chief bowed. "Won't you sit down, Mrs. Preece? This is Detective Inspector Paton, who is in charge of the Medbury Fort affair. I am right in assuming," he added, "that your husband is Major Hugh Preece?"

"Yes," she replied, sinking with a gently repressed sigh into a chair. "Every one who slept in the mess building that night is under suspicion. We can't say any more at present."

"Then I have something to tell you. It concerns Captain Wape."

Claire told of the oiled lock, the discovery of the crumpled man's tweeters in Mr. Wape's collection, and, finally, she baldly narrated what had occurred during Lepean's weekend visit at Leicester Gardens, and how, subsequently, these facts had reached Victor Wape's ears in a garbled form. Her voice, level and expressionless, ceased. Complete silence fell in the large, untidy office when she had finished speaking.

"First, I wish to ask a question," Claire answered, in a low voice. She looked directly at Paton. "Is my husband suspected of having murdered Mr. Lepean?"

It was McMaster who replied, gravely: "Every one who slept in the mess building that night is under suspicion. We can't say any more at present."

No Cause for Alarm

"A population of 500,000 by 1932" is Atlanta's slogan. Let's all pull together for a Greater Atlanta.

The Constitution's Weekly Business Review

EDITED BY M. D. GLEASON

There is hardly a need or a want that cannot be filled in Atlanta's stores and factories.

Scrap Metal Firm Here Does Large Annual Business

Nestling out in a shady grove at 972 Avon avenue, S. W., is a cozy, well-appointed small brick building that contains the office of the Knight-Luttrell Scrap Iron Company, the oldest and largest buyer of scrap metal in the southeast.

While this firm began business in Atlanta in 1923, it is a branch of the J. T. Knight & Sons, of Columbus, Ga., which company began business in the closing years of the last century. Present officials are J. B. Knight, president; E. J. Knight, vice president, and G. E. Luttrell, secretary-treasurer.

This firm, in addition to maintaining general headquarters in Columbus, where the Knight brothers live, and the Atlanta branch, has a large yard in Birmingham and another in Savannah. The Savannah yard, which is known as the Knight Scrap Metal Company, buys in large lots from all small dealers and ships on an average one boat load of scrap iron a month to Japan, Germany and Italy.

An interesting sight to any visitor who can get together a carload of the various kinds of broken metal parts are loaded.

Two large traveling cranes with electric magnets reach out over about two acres of yard and lift up three or four thousand pounds at one time and deposit it in the car in less than a minute, and a large car is quickly loaded without any straining or tugging on the part of one or more men.

While Knight-Luttrell buy all kinds of iron and steel from any one who can get together a carload lot, they resort to it to grade and get it under way to the various foundries and factories which melt it into new commodities again. This industry has passed a volume of 50,000 tons yearly tonnage of scrap iron sent out of Atlanta. Much of this scrap metal is used with a proportion of new pig iron in the making of stores, as it has already been melted once and gives a harder, shinier surface to a stove than an all new iron would give.

SCIENTIST'S PARTY ENTERS OKEFENOKEE

Waycross, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—N. H. Floyd, of Savannah, who is interested in historical research; Mrs. Dolores Colquitt, of Savannah; Miss Ashley, archaeologist representing a northern university, and A. K. Rutherford, photographer for the Sea Island Company, make up a party that is now in the Okefenokee securing data for a series of articles and pictures. They are accompanied by guides.

The movement to make the Okefenokee a national reserve is concentrating new attention on this vast area, which is without rival in the United States.

Puncture-Proof Tubes Save Their Costs Many Times

Most car owners know that the largest percent of their tire punctures are caused by some little insignificant tack or nail, or a "pinch" due to casting having a cut on the inside. The very fact that these little objects or pinches cannot be seen in time or be avoided means that many troublesome and vexatious delays due to punctures often happen at inopportune times.

About two years ago the J. C. Wright Distributing company, of 1039 Marietta street, began selling a pleasure car and truck owners a specially constructed tube known as the Bee tube. This Bee tube is scientifically built up of many thicknesses of sheet rubber, and as the tread is nearly one half inch thick, this extra thickness on the tread of the tube takes care of all the ordinary road punctures. A handful of nails could be picked up and yet cause no delay or interruption of the pleasure or business trip.

With the Bee tubes in their casings, any woman and her children or friends need have no worry about having punctures on long trips, for not only do these tubes take care of the small objects, but also large nails, glass cuts, stone and limb punctures as well, due to the fact that the sheet rubber is laminated. If a large rusty nail is the cause of trouble and remains in the casing, the many sheets of rubber adhere so tightly around the nail that no air can escape. If the nail is withdrawn, the different layers of rubber adhere in such a way that the puncture at several different places and prevent the air from escaping.

Most all good drivers who have been driving for a considerable time and know their car well have very little apprehension of any accidents when speeding along the country highways in so far as the car itself is concerned. But flat tires for some unreason cause has been the cause of many fatal or serious accidents to the best of drivers.

When the tires in the tires even the last worry can to a great extent be forgotten, and the feeling of more safety against accident when running at high speed or rounding curves is worth many times the cost of Bee tubes.

The constantly increasing number of users of this built-up tube in Atlanta is encouraging to Mr. Wright and his associates, for each new satisfied customer immediately becomes a booster and tells his or her friends about Bee tubes.

"Harry Helmar, president of the Gate City Dairy company, first put these Bee tubes in some of the casings of his milk delivery trucks, and the splendid service they rendered soon convinced Mr. Helmar that he could get more mileage out of his old casings and not be inconvenienced by unexpected delays in the important delivery of the morning's milk," Mr. Wright says.

"Charles Hiddle, of Eighth street, ran his casing 10,000 miles after he put in Bee tubes and saved their cost many times. H. L. Sparrow, auditor for the Atlanta & West Point railroad, put two in this casing and got over 10,000 extra miles out of them.

"E. Fuller, manager of the Healy Building restaurant, got 8,700 miles without new air being put in his tubes, and Mrs. W. A. Speer, wife of the head of the John Silvey company, had her Bee tubes 10 months and only investment in them, Beverly Duke, manager of the Hartfield Life Insurance company, says that nothing he ever rode on can compare with Bee tubes. Dr. C. C. Rife, proprietor of the Edgewood cat and dog hospital, says he has had these tubes nine months and is very pleased with them. Peter Herault, salesman for the Johnson Service company of Murphy, travels all over the southeastern states with speed and comfort with Bee tubes in his tires.

Bee tubes are made to fit all tires and anybody who wants further information can get the same by phoning 4140 or by writing in for descriptive circulars.

BEC SPECIAL PUNCTURE PROOF TUBES

5 FACTS

1. Do not deflate from punctures in tread.
2. Increase tire mileage.
3. Riding quality equal to this size of tire.
4. Do not slip in turns.
5. Guaranteed for one year against puncture in the tread up to the size of a 16 penny nail.

Note the tube inflated. There is a layer of fabric coated in the top of the tube called the casing part. When the tube is pumped up this casing part goes into a corner position. Note tube inflated—the fabric will not let the tube stretch on top, thereby forcing the casing together on inside of the tread of tube. Note tube inflated. This causes the rubber to internal pressure when nail is removed. Note tube fully inflated and in position in casing.

Note the pick stick through tube and casing does not go down.

Golf and Baseball Players Rushing Walthour & Hood

This is the season when the call of the golf links appeals to men and women who are teeing off at most all hours of the day. Good golf supplies help many to make good scores and that is the kind Walthour & Hood, of 54 Forsyth street, S. W., sell. As they are wholesale and retail dealers, they have large stocks of everything the golfer may require always in stock.

Baseball, like golf, is now in full swing, and Walthour & Hood are having their best year in baseball goods. In order to help all the local players, some of the best of the season and college players to get off with a good start this year, they piled high their counters with the best uniforms, shoe gloves and bats, and then put low prices on them at the very beginning of the season.

Many first buyers, being so well pleased with their bargains, were not long in telling their friends about them, and the Walthour & Hood Company is now a favorite place for thousands of people to buy anything they may need in the sporting goods line.

As the concern is famous for its fine line of fishing tackle and supplies, that department is also busy at this time. Due to a large stock assortment of tennis rackets and supplies, the large salesmen and a favorite meeting place for tennis players.

In wheel goods and bicycles Walthour & Hood have long been known as the largest distributors in the south. In this line they carry not only a large stock of the best makes in bicycles, but also all parts for the present standard makes of bicycles, and dealers and repair men all over the south know they can get any part for present-day wheels on short notice.

The store manager, Winfield Short, is highly pleased with the great sale the company is having on Walco baseballs, guaranteed for 36 innings.

RITTENBAUM BROS. FINDING MARKETS IN POINTS NORTH

For a number of years Nun-Better wiping cloths have been well known and widely used throughout the south-eastern and southwestern states, but recently only a small quantity of these sterilized, sanitary wiping cloths were shipped into northern states.

Harry Rittenbaum, president of the Gate City Dairy company, first put these Bee tubes in some of the casings of his milk delivery trucks, and the splendid service they rendered soon convinced Mr. Helmar that he could get more mileage out of his old casings and not be inconvenienced by unexpected delays in the important delivery of the morning's milk," Mr. Wright says.

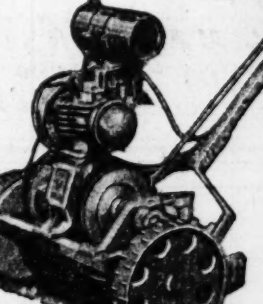

"Charles Hiddle, of Eighth street, ran his casing 10,000 miles after he put in Bee tubes and saved their cost many times. H. L. Sparrow, auditor for the Atlanta & West Point railroad, put two in this casing and got over 10,000 extra miles out of them.

"E. Fuller, manager of the Healy Building restaurant, got 8,700 miles without new air being put in his tubes, and Mrs. W. A. Speer, wife of the head of the John Silvey company, had her Bee tubes 10 months and only investment in them, Beverly Duke, manager of the Hartfield Life Insurance company, says that nothing he ever rode on can compare with Bee tubes. Dr. C. C. Rife, proprietor of the Edgewood cat and dog hospital, says he has had these tubes nine months and is very pleased with them. Peter Herault, salesman for the Johnson Service company of Murphy, travels all over the southeastern states with speed and comfort with Bee tubes in his tires.

Bee tubes are made to fit all tires and anybody who wants further information can get the same by phoning 4140 or by writing in for descriptive circulars.

MODERN SERVICE IS INAUGURATED BY RELIABLE FIRM

A new service begins today at 631 Spring street, N. W., to be known as Randall Brothers, Inc. It comes into existence to furnish fuel oil and service to all present and many future oil-burner users in Atlanta territory. This new fuel oil burner service is backed by the Randall Brothers, coal and lumber dealers of over a third of a century in Atlanta, whose reliability is known to any resident of only a few months in this part of Georgia.

They are just completing erection of a large fuel oil storage tank to take care of present and future needs of the various oil burners now used and will be installed in and around Atlanta.

This new department of Randall Brothers, Inc., will be under the supervision of Harvie Wharton, a heating engineer of international reputation, and the public here will know that this new oil burner service department will be in the hands of the most expert oil burner man in this or any other country.

Mr. Wharton first became connected with the pioneer oil burner company of the world, nearly 35 years ago, in California, and perfected many of the improvements now used on the best burners on the market.

He has learned through his long experience how to get the best possible heating service out of all standard makes of oil burners, and the owner of any burner can feel assured of immediate aid from Mr. Wharton at the ring of the phone to Hemlock 8840.

Mr. Wharton was selected over many others to look after all the steam fitting of new boats built at Hog Island during the war, and he has held important positions since with large oil burner companies. He has many friends in the Atlanta territory. Mr. Wharton says that the company will guarantee to furnish just the right fuel oil for any known burner and will adjust all nozzles free of charge to secure the best heating results at the least expense.

To all his new and old friends among oil burner users in the Atlanta vicinity he says that he never was so well located to serve so many as in his present capacity, and he will be glad to serve all that may need service.

OUR CLUB — By Seekatary Hawkins

WE HAD A HUNT FOR THE SKINNY GUY TODAY. HE DIDN'T SHOW UP AT OUR MEETING. JOHNNY AND I LIKED SKINNY, BUT JERRY MOORE AND THE OTHER BOYS SEEMED TO HOLD SOMETHING AGAINST HIM.

A BUNCH OF PELHAM FELLOWS WERE STANDING AROUND OUR CLUBHOUSE WHEN WE GOT BACK. THEY HAD A NEW FELLOW WITH THEM. HE HAD RED HAIR AND HE WAS KINDA CHUNKY. OUR CAPTAIN SAID, 'WHAT DO YOU BOYS WANT HERE?'

OUR CAPTAIN GOT MAD AT ME FOR SAYING THAT. SO I SHUT UP. WE STAYED AROUND OUR STATIONED HOUSEBOAT ALL AFTERNOON BUT THE PELHAM DIDN'T COME BACK. SO WE ADJOURNED AND WENT HOME.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

THE WILLFUL YOUNG GANDER.

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.
Willfulness, as sure as fate,
Will lead to trouble or late.
—Old Mother Nature.

In the flock of Honker the Goose were several young geese, as is always the case in a big flock. These young geese were making their first trip back to the Far North. They were not yet mated, nor would they mate that year. There was a care-free life with nothing to do but learn the ways of the wise among geese and to have a good time generally.

Now, young geese are quite like young folks of other kinds. Some of them are quite likely to be willful; some of them are inclined to think that they know it all; some of them are smarter than others; some of them are always obedient, while others are always looking for a chance to do what they want to do rather than what they should do.

In Honker's flock there was a young gander who had a very good opinion of himself. It goes without saying that he was a willful young gander. Honker, as leader of the flock, always had to keep a watchful eye on this young gander. He thought that Honker feared that the willful young gander would get into trouble because he was so willful. He would lead other members of the flock into trouble. You see, this young gander liked to show off before the other young geese.

This willful young gander was greedy, which perhaps was quite natural. He was strong and handsome and he thought a very great deal of his appearance. He thought that he was more of a leader than Honker. He showed other members of the flock that he was a leader. He showed other members of the flock that he was a leader. He showed other members of the flock that he was a leader.

Presently he swam in close to shore.

ly. The young gander pretended not to hear. He started to wade out to the shore. But all the time he was keeping a watchful eye on Honker. When he saw Honker suddenly start in his direction the willful young gander pretended not to see him, but he turned and swam rather rapidly out into the pond where the water was fairly deep. You see, he had no desire to be punished by the big leader. "He is just doing it to show that he is the leader," thought the young gander. "He is hully. I can tell him one thing and that is that when I get my full strength he'll never bully me. There isn't a thing in the world to be afraid of in this little pond here. There is no reason in the world why we shouldn't all of us go ashore if we want to. There is no danger. I'm going ashore the first chance I get. Yes, sir, that is what I'm going to do. Honker is getting old. He isn't fit to be the leader of a great flock like this. He is too easily scared. Some day I'm going to lead this flock and then they'll know that they've got a leader. I wish he would take a nap. I want to go ashore."

So the willful young gander talked to himself, in the way that young people have of talking to themselves.

DRUID HILLS BAPTISTS WELCOME NEW PASTOR

The large congregation of the Druid Hills Baptist church turned out en masse Sunday to welcome its recently named pastor, the Rev. Louis D. Newton, whose ordination took place Saturday morning at the little Union church, in Sereven county.

At the morning service the big church was filled as Mr. Newton conducted his first services as a full-fledged minister of the gospel and gave a sermon on the subject, "Lord, Teach Us to Pray." During the course of the services Z. A. Snipes, head of the committee which made the ordination plans, gave a brief report of the ceremonies as they were conducted Saturday, and also read a splendid tribute to Mr. Newton sent to the congregation by the Rev. J. L. Anderson, pastor of the Union church.

At the evening services at 7:30 o'clock the church was again filled as Mr. Newton gave a sermon on the subject, "My God! My God! Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?" This was the fourth of several sermons being given by the pastor on "The Seven Sayings of Christ on the Cross." The ordination ceremonies, conducted at one of the oldest country places of worship in the state, were simple but impressive and were attended by a score of the leaders of the Georgia Baptist conference as well as many friends from Atlanta. The ordination sermon was given by Dr. J. D. Mell, president of the conference, and the services were directed by Mr. Anderson and participated in by a dozen well-known Baptist ministers.

Attending the services with their sons were Mr. Newton's parents, who are life-long members of the Union church, and Mr. Newton's brothers. Mr. Newton was confirmed at the little country place of worship when he was a lad of nine, and it was thought appropriate that his entrance into the ministry be made at the same place. Previous to his recent acceptance of the pulpit at the Druid Hills church, one of the largest in the state, Mr. Newton had been for many years a lay leader and as editor of the Christian Index, official Georgia Baptist organ.

PRISONER BURNED TO DEATH IN CELL

Helena, Ga., April 21.—(P)—Charles Hulet, 38, was burned to death here this morning when the Helena city jail, in which he was incarcerated on a misdemeanor charge, was destroyed by fire. The fire, which was discovered about 3 a. m., was presumed to have been started by a lighted cigar which ignited the mattress on Hulet's bunk.

Hulet was arrested late yesterday afternoon by the night marshal of Helena and placed in the Helena jail on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. The marshal, after incarcerating his prisoner, started on his rounds of the business district.

The jail, a small, one-cell affair, is not guarded. Nor was there any other inmate at the time of the fire. Immediately upon discovering the flames the night marshal sounded an alarm which called out the local fire department. The headway gained by the fire made the work of the department futile.

Hulet, who resided a short distance from this place, is survived by his widow and several children. The body, which was badly burned, was placed in a local undertaking establishment. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

No announcement was made today regarding plans for an inquest.

BUDGET DIRECTOR QUILTS; TO RE-ENTER BUSINESS WORLD

Washington, April 21.—(P)—Brigadier General Herbert M. Lord, the director of the budget, has decided to retire before the beginning of another year's labor. The government fiscal year ends June 30.

At the request of President Hoover, General Lord withheld his resignation when the new administration came in March 4, but he has informed the president of his desire to return to the business world. General Lord took over the duties of the newly organized budget bureau in 1922. He was the second director, succeeding Charles Gates Dawes, newly appointed ambassador to Great Britain. Dawes was called to organize and head the bureau by the late President Harding.

Atlanta.

"What a Woman Wants" will be presented tonight at the Atlanta theatre by the Fulwider All-Star Players as the sixth production in their remarkably successful season of plays. In this very human and appealing comedy of three maiden sisters dwelling in solitude and silence in their proper New England home, Miss Marian Grant, adorable and popular leading woman of the company, will be seen again in a character which makes the most of her lovely personality and exceptional dramatic talent.

Keith's Georgia.

Keith's Georgia presents this week "Sonny Boy" a Warner Brothers Talking picture with Davey Lee, the little boy that won the hearts of all in "The Singing Fool." Master Davey Lee is starred for the first time in his own right and we have been informed by those that have seen the picture that he is simply adorable in "Sonny Boy." The Georgia also presents four acts of Keith vaudeville that from advance reports is said to be entertaining and of lux.

Loew's Capitol.

William Haines in his latest star picture, "The Sign of the Cross," is a fast-moving story of a college student who turns out to be the middle-weight champion of the prize ring. The screen features a superb picture of this week. It is the film version of the Saturday Evening Post story of the same name. Five acts of Loew vaudeville, headlined by Nick Casa and Elsie Luhn in an elaborate ensemble of dancing, music and comedy, supplements the picture.

Georgia Endeavors Name Lawton Hatcher

Savannah, Ga., April 21.—(P)—The four-day state convention of the Georgia State Christian Endeavor Union, the seventeenth, came to a close tonight at the First Christian church. Installation of the new slate of officers, elected Saturday, was made.

Lawton Hatcher, of Augusta, now heads the state union, with Rev. Richard Wilson, of Cartersville, first vice president, and W. J. Stalter, of Savannah, second vice president.

The four days of the convention have been filled with conferences, meetings and addresses, and features to round out the program, including the culminating tonight.

Rev. Neal L. Anderson, D. D., pastor of Independent Presbyterian church, made one of the outstanding addresses of the convention this afternoon, when he spoke on "Crusade with Christ Through Christian Citizenship."

The installation of new officers was presided over by Rev. W. J. Stalter, first vice president, and W. J. Stalter, of Savannah, second vice president.

Rev. J. Randall Farris, pastor of the First Christian church, was host to the convention, with Rev. D. F. Pyndall, Second Christian church, Rev. Neal L. Anderson, pastor of Independent Presbyterian church assisting in the work.

POSITION OF U. S. ON DISARMAMENT TO BE HEARD TODAY

Geneva, April 21.—(P)—An important statement outlining America's views on reduction of armaments, and chiefly on education of naval armaments, will be made tomorrow morning by Ambassador Hugh S. Gibson.

Metropolitan.

Hailed as "the best voice in talking pictures" Conrad Nagel will be heard at the Metropolitan this week in "Kid Gloves" in which the star is co-starring with Lois Wilson. The story is that of a man forced to marry a woman he had never seen before, and trying to make good for her. Hallet's Orchestra, a vitaphone de luxe presentation, forms the most interesting part of the short program, which also features Fox Movietone News.

Cameo.

The spirit of service dominates "The Voice of the Storm," the current attraction at the Cameo. Devotion to duty in behalf of the telephone service is the motive behind the action of this new production, which is being given its initial run in Atlanta at the Cameo.

Empire.

Paraporn's all-talking mystery drama, "The Canary Murder Case" will be presented again today and Tuesday at Atlanta at the Empire theater, corner Georgia avenue and Crew street. Featuring one of the most imposing casts ever assembled, "The Canary Murder Case" is a dramatization of the S. S. Van Dine story of the same name. William Powell is featured as Philo Vance, master criminalist.

Tenth Street.

"The Night Club," one of Paramount's snappiest all talking features will be the opening offering for the week at the Tenth Street. Featuring such known stage stars as Ann Pennington, Fannie Brice and the popular Rooney boys, this story of gay Broadway's night club will furnish entertainment aplenty.

The Story of American Industry.

American Commerce and the Embargo Act of 1807.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

IN THE EARLY YEARS OF THE 19TH CENTURY, COMMERCE WAS THE LEADING INDUSTRY OF THE NEW ENGLAND STATES. GREAT BRITAIN WAS FIGHTING NAPOLEON, AND THE NEUTRAL AMERICAN MERCHANT MARINE WAS MAKING LARGE PROFITS OUT OF THE STRUGGLE.

FOR A TIME AMERICAN SHIPPERS CARRIED ON A PROSPEROUS TRADE WITH BOTH SIDES. THIS PERIOD OF PROSPERITY, HOWEVER, WAS DOOMED TO BE SHORT-LIVED. IN 1807 EACH OF THE WARRING NACTIONS TOOK DRASTIC MEASURES TO KEEP AMERICAN SHIPS FROM SUPPLYING THE OTHER. AS A RESULT, AMERICAN SHIP OWNERS SUFFERED GREATLY.

BOTH THE BRITISH AND THE FRENCH SEIZED AMERICAN MERCHANTS. TO PROTECT OUR SHIPPING, AND WITH THE HOPE OF FORCING GREAT BRITAIN AND FRANCE TO ABANDON THEIR POLICIES TOWARD NEUTRAL VESSELS, PRESIDENT JEFFERSON IN 1807 SECURED THE PASSAGE OF THE "EMBARGO ACT". BY WHICH AMERICAN SHIPS WERE FORBIDDEN TO LEAVE THEIR HOME PORTS.

THE EMBARGO ACT WAS A GRAVE MISTAKE. THOUSANDS OF OUR SEAMEN FOUND THEMSELVES ABANDONED WITHOUT EMPLOYMENT, OUR SHIPS ROTTED AT THEIR DOCKS, AND HARD TIMES DECEASED UPON THE COASTS OF NEW ENGLAND. THE ACT WAS REPEALED (1809), BUT BEFORE OUR COMMERCE COULD RECOVER FROM THE BLIGHT OF THE EMBARGO, CAME THE WAR OF 1812 AND THE BRITISH BLOCKADE.

TOMORROW—NEW ENGLAND TURNS TO MANUFACTURING.

GEN. URBALEJO QUILTS LOSING REBEL CAUSE

Gives Up Command and Crosses to U. S.; Big Push Due.

Nogales, Ariz., April 21.—(AP)—General Francisco Urbalejo, Yaqui Indian rebel chieftain, has entered the United States from Agua Prieta, Sonora, it was learned today, and has declared himself through with the Mexican revolution. General Urbalejo's Yaqui Indian troops, numbering between 600 and 1,000, have left the Agua Prieta district. Many of them have been seen by ranchers in the vicinity of Fronteras, 30 miles south of Agua Prieta, moving in the direction of the Yaqui reservation.

CARRILLO DIRECTS ATTACK FROM PLANE

Mexico City, April 21.—(AP)—General Jaime Carrillo, who successfully defended Mazatlan against a major rebel attack last month and now head of one of the divisions in Sonora, personally commanded an aerial raid over the rebel camp at Nabajao, Sonora, yesterday, according to a telegram received here.

In the telegram, sent to one of his staff officers, Colonel Antonio Rodriguez, who now is on a mission to Mexico City, General Carrillo said he went as a passenger in the leading plane and directed operations.

It was confidently expected here, where the quietest week-end since the revolution started was in prospect, that the federal columns would move into Sonora early this week and before the week was over the revolution would be a thing of the past. A federal advance from San Blas presents the possibility of a battle before the troops advance 50 miles as rebels are reported to be entrenched at Masianca, only 25 miles from a federal cavalry outpost is resting and awaiting instructions. The main rebel army is supposed to be entrenched at Nabajao, about 8 miles north of San Blas.

The government yesterday without field reports from the principal commanders including General Calles, which was taken here to indicate that there were no important developments along the Sonora borders. The day's news, however, did bring in additional scattering reports of rebel desertions. These reports are not great. They are more frequent as will gradually cut the rebel strength, which is now believed not to exceed six or seven thousand.

I will not be responsible for debts incurred by my wife, Jessie Venable. (Signed) B. S. VENABLE.

ROTARIANS ASSEMBLE FOR ALBANY MEETING

69th District Convention Will Open on Monday Morning.

Albany, Ga., April 22.—(AP)—Rotarians from virtually all cities in Georgia were arriving here tonight for the first annual conference of the new sixty-ninth district of Rotary International, which opens tomorrow. The sixty-ninth district, comprising the state of Georgia, was created from the thirty-ninth district when that body met in Tallahassee, Fla., last year.

District Governor Abit Nix, of Athens, will call the convention to order, and President John Joe West, of the Albany chapter, will deliver the address of welcome. The initial session will be featured by an address by International Director John Carlson, of Kansas City, Kan., and by nominations for a district governor.

The entire afternoon session tomorrow will be given over to balloting for the district head for the next twelve months. Willis Sutton, of Atlanta, will speak on youth and Rotary at the evening session, which will follow a six o'clock reception for District Governor Nix. The first day will be closed with a pageant and the annual governor's ball at Radium Springs. Six hundred Rotarians are expected to attend the meetings.

Seventh-Day Adventists Celebrate Laying Of Cornerstone for Church School Here

Just after the cornerstone had been laid Sunday afternoon at the new Seventh-Day Adventist church school at the corner of Elmore and Mercer streets, a group of men, including church leaders and community members, were gathered around the large, ornate cornerstone. The men, dressed in formal attire, were engaged in conversation and looking at the cornerstone. The scene was set outdoors, with a building visible in the background.

Chief of Construction Clarke Donaldson then spoke briefly on the educational and religious advantages of the new school. He was followed by the Rev. A. A. Cone, pastor of the First Seventh-Day Adventist church, who explained the reasons for the maintenance of church schools. He said that the school was the most effective way to carry on the work of the church. The school was first started here in 1889 and after nearly forty years of holding classes in the church building, the school was moved to its present location on Elmore and Mercer streets. The school was recently decided to build the new school under construction.

The new school will be completed about June 1 and its four classrooms will accommodate about 150 students. There also is in it a large auditorium. The school was first started here in 1889 and after nearly forty years of holding classes in the church building, the school was moved to its present location on Elmore and Mercer streets. The school was recently decided to build the new school under construction.

Results of this survey, which Chief Watkins believes will reveal that over half the state prisoners have other criminal records than these known here, will be utilized in planning before the coming legislature a bill providing for a state central bureau of identification. Such bureaus are maintained by many states, and make the apprehension of criminals with "records" comparatively easy.

In Memoriam.

W. R. Bridges, a policeman, was shot and killed by Alouzo Clark, a negro, who later was shot to death by Bridges' companion, W. J. Mathis. The shooting occurred on Beale avenue in the heart of Memphis' negro district.

Patrolman Bridges and his partners saw the negro run across the street hurriedly. They ran to catch him, intent on questioning him. Bridges seized the negro, who drew a gun, and shot the officer point blank. Mathis fired five shots into the negro's body as he attempted to run. The policeman died a few minutes later at a hospital. The negro died en route to a hospital.

Quincy, Mass., April 21.—(United News.)—You can call your neighbor "monkey-face" and get away with it. Mrs. Anderson, who lives next door, was arrested for using this epithet on Mrs. Axel Anderson, who lives next door. The police said that this was not sufficient basis for charging the woman with being a "raider and brawler" and dismissed the case.

Three persons were injured and two houses, two barns and a store were damaged by a tornado which struck Oak City, two miles south of here. A severe electrical storm preceded the twister. The injured are Helen and Imogene Grisham and a small boy who were brought to a hospital here. One of the girls was reported in a serious condition.

Holland, Mich., April 21.—(AP)—High school girls here may smoke in jail.

Police have issued an edict against smoking by high school girls in hotel lobbies or elsewhere in public. The young women will be arrested if they fail to heed the order, officers warn. One merchant has been arrested for selling cigarettes to a minor and the owner of a hotel has been warned that girls must not smoke in the lobby.

Killed by Boulder.

Salzburg, Austria, April 21.—(AP)—Mrs. Hilda Givernan, 35, of Chicago, was crushed to death yesterday while taking a sun bath at the foot of Gaisberg mountain by a huge boulder that rolled down on her from a height of 1,500 feet.
